TWO SCHOOL BOYS HURT IN MISHAPS

Robert Elliott Only Slightly Hurt
When Struck by Automobile Driven by William Grocox

GOING HOME FROM SCHOOL

Richard Dishinger Suffers Scalp
Wound When Struck by Carelessly Tossed Horseshoe

Two youngsters, both in the third grade at the Havens school, were injured in mishaps shortly before noon today, when Robert Elliott was struck by an automobile and Richard Dishinger was hit in the head with a carelessly tossed horseshoe.

Young Elliott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott, 640 West Water street. He was leaving the school with other children, and attempted to cross Third street at Buena Vista avenue, in front of an automobile driven by William Grocox, who lives west of Rushville.

Mr. Grocox had slowed down for the railroad crossing, and the boy was only slightly bumped. He received cuts across the face and a bruised lip. No bones were broken.

Young Dishinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dishinger, 401 North Jackson street. He was with other playmates on the school ground throwing horseshoes, when one of the lads tossed one wild, and it came down on his head.

A deep gash was inflicted in his scalp. Both boys were taken to the office of Dr. E. I. Wooden at about the same time and their injuries were dressed.

Each boy suffered from the loss of blood, but otherwise were not seriously hurt.

WILLIAM GAHIMER, SR. DIES THIS MORNING

Prominent Farmer and Large Land
Owner Expires at the Age of
Eighty-one Years

BORN IN WALKER TOWNSHIP

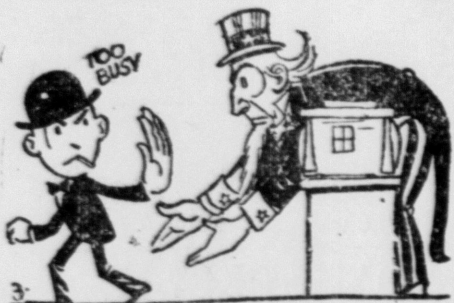

William Gahimer, Sr., age eighty-one years, one of the most prominent farmers and largest land owners in Orange township, died this morning at his home following a long sickness. His condition has been such that he has been unable to attend to his affairs and Gus Riley has been acting as his guardian.

Mr. Gahimer's parents were natives of Alsace Lorraine and he was born soon after they came to this country. His birthplace was in Walker township, but he lived in Orange township most of his life and through thrift and industry accumulated five hundred acres of land. He ran a threshing machine and clover huller for many years.

The deceased was married twice, but both wives are dead. He is survived by five sons, Julius, Conrad, Eddie, William and George. A daughter, Mrs. George Ritter, died several months ago, and another son, Augustus, died about two years ago. Three other children are also dead. Other survivors are a brother, Daniel Gahimer, 25 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at the German church in Union township, Shelby county, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of the pastor, assisted by the Rev. Loren Tillison, and burial will take place in the church cemetery. He was a member of this church.

PASS THE HALFWAY MARK

Fall Tax Collections Mount to $242,- 094.22 Wednesday

Tax collections on the fall installment passed the halfway mark Wednesday when receipts at the county treasurer's office amounted to $26,903 and brought the total for the fall installment up to $242,094.22.

Taxes falling due this fall amount to $470,302 and the balance unpaid when the treasurer's office opened for business today was $228,207.78. Collections will have to run $57,051 a day on the average if the taxes are all paid.

The treasurer's office will be open Saturday and Monday nights for the benefit of those who can't call during the day.

BAND DELIGHTS TWO AUDIENCES

U. S. Marine Musicians are Vigorously
Appraised by Crowds at Both Concerts Wednesday

SOLOISTS WIN APPROVAL

Cornet and Trombone Selections Especially Popular With Audience
in The Evening

The United States Marine band, regarded as the premier band in the United States, entertained two audiences at the Memorial park coliseum Wednesday, and went on to Indianapolis this morning for two concerts at the Cadle tabernacle tonight.

The number of people attending both concerts could not be definitely determined today as all of the tickets sold in advance had not been reported, but indications were that the Daily Republican, sponsor for the appearance of the band here, would lose money on the project.

The sponsors had the active support of the Rush County Child Welfare association, with chairwomen in every township, and the Boy Scouts in Rushville. Both organizations made a thorough canvass, but it was estimated today that the receipts would not be sufficient to meet the expenses.

The Daily Republican guaranteed $1,500 for the two concerts, which is the guarantee which the band requires for every day's concert, whether they are given in Rushville, Newcastle, Richmond, Indianapolis or any other city.

The music by the band was a rare treat for those who took advantage of the opportunity to hear the famous musicians. The audiences at both concerts were very appreciative and gave evidence of their appreciation by most liberal applause.

If any comparisons could be made between the two concerts, those who heard both would probably favor the night concert. The closing selection by the band, "Reminiscences of Tchaikowsky" by Godfrey, was probably the outstanding number. People were stirred to the depths by (Continued on Page Three)

CONSERVATIVES SWEEP INTO POWER BY BRITISH

Labor Sustains Crushing Defeat in Election, But Will Constitute
Official Opposition

LIBERAL PARTY CRUSHED

London, Oct. 30—The Conservatives have swept the country and will have a majority of approximately 85,000 in the next parliament.

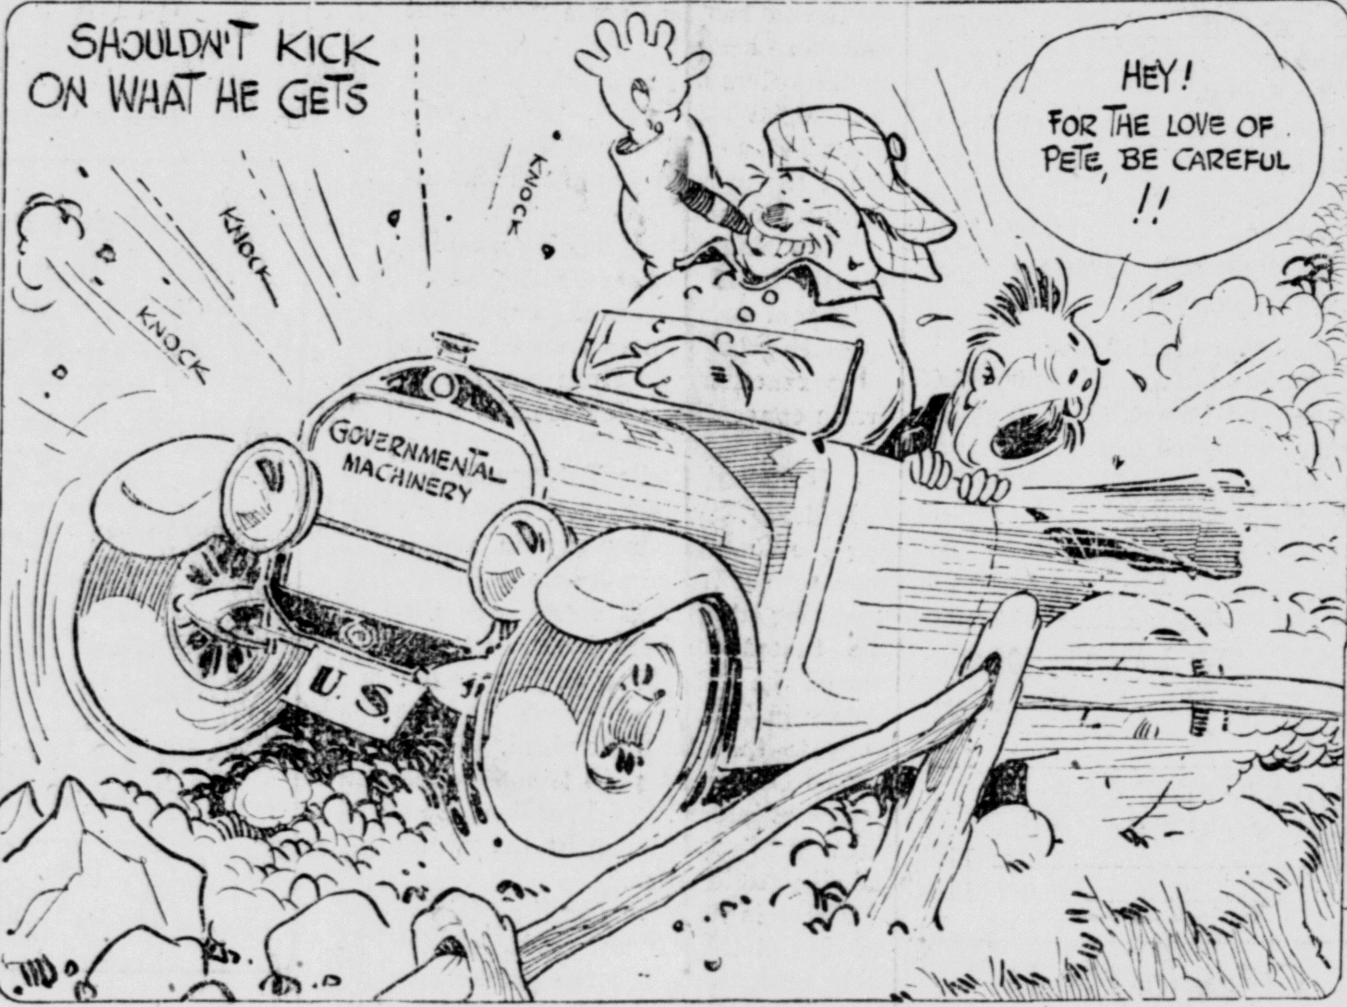

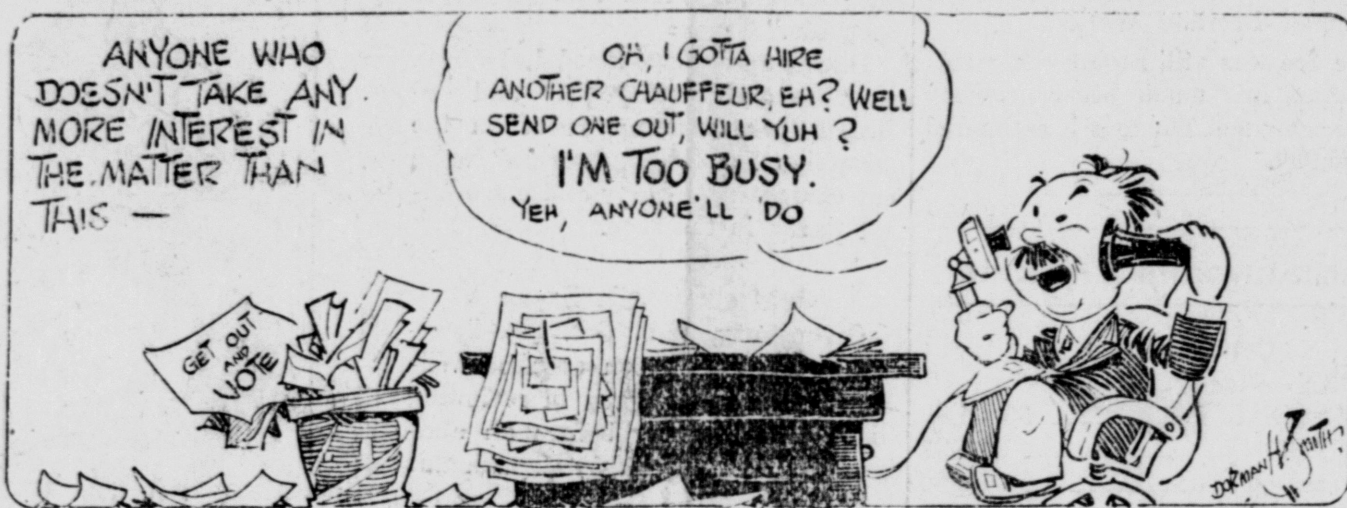

Labor sustained a defeat, many of its leaders going down before the Conservative landslide, but will constitute the official opposition in the next parliament.

The swing to the right which carried the Conservatives in, nearly crushed the Liberal party out of existence.

The Liberals lost more than 100 seats and will have the smallest parliamentary representation in their history.

The Tories had won 376 seats by 5 p. m. with the prospect of holding some over four hundred when the results are all tabulated.

Land Valued at $150,000 Goes to
Purdue for This Purpose

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 30—Execution of a trust deed for land valued at $150,000 in Benton county, proceeds of which will be used to erect a girl's dormitory at Purdue, was made today by Mrs. Harriet Small of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The hall will be a memorial to Mrs. Ophelia Duhme, a former resident of Fowler, Ind., and will be erected after the death of Mrs. Small.

The suit marked the end of long litigation over the will of Mrs. Duhme, who named Mrs. Small chief beneficiary and provided that the money for building the dormitory should be turned over to the university after the death of Mrs. Small.

Murder, Testifies at Noblesville

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 30—M. L. Kincaid on trial here for the murder of his father, James J. Kincaid, took the stand in his own defense today.

Kincaid testified he saw his father alive on the morning of February 2, this year. The state contends the father was slain on the night of February 1.

The accused son explained the presence of spots of blood found on the Kincaid farm, by saying he killed three chickens the night before the death of his father.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

REQUESTS YOUNG FOLKS NOT TO SOAP WINDOWS

Mayor Walter R. Thomas Believes
Responses Will be as Good as it
Was Last Year

OLD PRACTICES CHANGING

Mayor Walter R. Thomas today issued an appeal to the boys and girls of Rushville not to soap windows on Halloween night or the night previous, because of the great inconvenience it causes, especially to business men, whose large plate glass windows offer a fine target for the old Halloween prank.

"The boys and girls responded to this request so well last year," said Mayor Thomas today, "that scarcely any windows were soaped Halloween night or the nights before the holiday. I believe they will do equally as well this year, because if they stop to thing, they accomplish nothing by marking up windows and they cause other people trouble and hard work."

Disorder on Halloween night is a rare thing nowadays as the rowdism that once prevailed on the night of witches no longer seems to be popular.

Boys and girls still hold to the custom of masking and they have their plans ready for a disguise that will confound their friends. Many Halloween parties have been announced.

Plans are being made to have each school in the county represented by a delegate at roll call. The completed program will be announced in a few days.

in Literary Digest Poll

New York, Oct. 30—Final totals of the Literary Digest poll of 2,386,653 voters published today, shows President Coolidge leading with 1,348,003 votes, Senator LaFollette second, with 508,516 and John W. Davis immediately at LaFollette's heels with 505,410.

On the basis of "straw" returns LaFollette, however, is given only Wisconsin. Davis was given Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, in fact, all the solid south, while Coolidge is given everything else, except California, Nevada, Oklahoma and North and South Dakota, West Virginia, and Maryland, all of which are listed as "doubtful".

NAMED RECEIVER FOR LOCAL MEAT MARKET

William E. Inlow Appointed to Charge of Affairs of Weeks Fresh
Meat and Provision Co.

BANK ASKED RECEIVERSHIP

William E. Inlow has been appointed receiver for the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company of this city, following a petition asking for a receivership by the Rushville National bank.

The bank recently filed suit for $1,400 on a note, and in their petition for a receiver, alleges that the concern is insolvent because of other court cases, and that the interests of the creditors should be protected. Mr. Inlow provided bond, and assumed charge of the place today.

There are only minor court matters heard these days in court, as attorneys requested that no cases be set for trial until after election.

Several criminal cases will be tried in the early part of the November court term. The present term of court ends November 8.

CANDIDATES ARE ON FINAL STRETCH

Mass Meetings, Torchlight Parades
and Luncheons Arranged For Last Push

PROBERS REDOUBLE EFFORTS

Campaign Expenditures Investigation
Committee Wants all Evidence
Before Election

(By United Press)

With only three campaigning days remaining before election, political leaders throughout the nation today rallied their sources for final booming of their candidates.

Mass meetings, torchlight parades dinners and luncheons were arranged down to the lowliest ward in preparation for carrying the campaigns down to the final wire.

The three presidential candidates continued along their campaign schedule. President Coolidge met his supporters calling at the White House. John W. Davis prepared for a series of speeches tonight in his own Long Island neighborhood. Senator LaFollette moved on toward Boston for a speech there tonight in the former home city of his Republican opponent.

Conductors of the campaign expenditure investigations in Washington and Chicago, redoubled their efforts to get all possible evidence before election day.

Davis in a statement assailed the Republican tariff law and promised if elected to guarantee adoption of a substitute measure "friendly to all legitimate business but impartial to none."

LaFollette issued a statement at Albany, charging that Attorney General Stone in his decision regarding income tax publicity was "merely threatening honest newspapers of the country" because he knew "publication of these lists and the scandalous evasion of taxes revealed is making millions of votes for the progressive cause."

The stumping vice presidential candidates drew their tours near a close. General Dawes invaded Missouri, while Senator Wheeler returned to Ohio, speaking in Toledo for the second time since his tour began.

Carries Fight to Missouri

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30—General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, today carried the fight against "radicalism" and the LaFollette supreme court program across Missouri to St. Joseph.

In his address here last night to a large audience in the coliseum, Dawes devoted himself almost entirely to what he called the one issue of the campaign—maintenance (Continued on Page Two)

COMPENSATION PLEA HEARD BY STATE BOARD

John Roberts of Glenwood Claims
he Lost Sight of One Eye Employed in Blacksmith Shop

JOHN F. MAPES IS DEFENDANT

A complaint for liability compensation was heard this morning in the court house by a representative of the state industrial board, in the petition of John Roberts of Glenwood.

Roberts charges in his petition for compensation, that he lost the sight of an eye while employed in the blacksmith shop owned by John F. Mapes of Glenwood. Evidence was introduced by Mr. Mapes to attempt to show that the eyesight was affected by a disease, and was not injured from a piece of material that might have flid into his eye from a lathe. The evidence was not completed, because a motion was passed in which expert examination of the eye will be permitted by a disinterested eye surgeon.

The petitioner is seeking to recover the compensation allowed on a weekly basis. It is understood that Mr. Mapes did not carry liability insurance. He quit the blacksmith trade several months ago, he said on examination, and on further testimony stated that he had sold his tools and stock yesterday.

of the constitution and the preservation of individual rights. The LaFollette ticket, he said, proposes "at one blow to destroy the balance of power and to make the judicial and executive branches of the government subservient to the passing whim of any radical majority which may ride into power in congress."

Dawes again denounced LaFollette as "the arch demagogue" and declared there was no room in the campaign for the Democrats' when one conservative party and one radical party in the race.

Watson Assails Bryan

Greensburg, Ind., Oct. 30—Senator James E. Watson assailed William Jennings Bryan in reviewing his political career before an audience of Decatur county Republicans last night.

"Bryan has had some paramount issue and some bogie man to frighten the voters since his first campaign in 1896," Watson said. "Each campaign he has had to find a new hobby of the previous campaign was always worn out."

"Now his hobby is holding up John W. Davis and Brother Charley as the only real progressives, completely forgetting that he denounced Davis as a reactionary before the Democratic convention a few months ago."

Bryan at Cadle Tabernacle

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30—Flaying the Republican party in merciless terms, William Jennings Bryan, speaking at a mass meeting in Cadle tabernacle here last night, declared the only hope of progressive voters in the present campaign is to rally to the Davis standard.

The Commoner paid tribute to the personal integrity of President Coolidge but branded him as the "worst of all reactionaries."

There is no hope for the election of LaFollette, Bryan said, and the only recourse is for the progressive of every political party to vote for Davis.

"If the progressive vote is divided we cannot win and the reactionaries will be firmly in the saddle for the next four years," Bryan declared.

Bryan aired the old scandals and said he "blamed the system as well as the man."

Jackson in Northern Indiana

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 30—Ed Jackson, Republican nominee for governor, was making his final swing through northern Indiana today.

Jackson was scheduled to speak at Winamac this afternoon and to address a rally of St. Joseph county Republicans here tonight.

Speaking at Valparaiso last night, Jackson made threefold appeal to the voters of Porter county, pledging efficiency, economy and honesty in government if he is elected.

Porter county organization workers told him he would carry the county by at least 5,000 majority.

Arthur Gilliam, South Bend, candidate for attorney general, addressed the Valparaiso meeting and assailed the LaFollette proposals for curtailment of the power of the United States Supreme court.

Defends Constitution

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 30—Concentrating his attack on the LaFollette proposals for amendments to the constitution, Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator, spoke to a gathering of twelfth district Republicans here last night.

"For the next few years this country wants no daring experiments, no political adventure flashing across the stage," Beveridge said. "A plain American citizen who keeps his head and does his duty is the type of executive we need."

Harold Van Orman Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke with Beveridge. Van Orman pledged himself to uphold all the laws on the statute books if elected.

In McCray's Home Town

Kentland, Ind., Oct. 30—Campaigning in the home town of former Governor McCray, Dr. Carleton McCullough, Democratic nominee for governor, last night brought up "common honesty and keeping faith with the public trust," as the greatest issues of the election.

"The public mind is in revolt against the stories of graft that comes to us on every hand," McCulloch said. "When a political party has betrayed its trust like the present administration, the leaders justly deserve the rebuke they will get at the polls."

McCulloch urged Republicans to vote with the Democrat party this fall to "register their disapproval of the leadership of their party."

The candidate declared for reduction in the number of state boards

CHRYSLER

Why The Country Is Chrysler-Wild Today

It is a revelation to sit in a Chrysler and look up at other cars you pass. The contrast is so marked that it recalls the days when the safety bicycle obsoleted the old high wheel over night. Viewed from the snug, low-hung comfort of the Chrysler, the others look awkwardly high and unwieldy. Not only do they appear unnecessarily high, but unnecessarily heavy and cumbersome. The delight which this contrast arouses is stimulated when the Chrysler gets under way. It has a flashing acceleration which is literally a new experience. Just as it is smartly unusual in appearance and conservation of space and height and weight, so it is strikingly unusual in performance. It romps away from its unwieldier brethren with ease, on level, or grade, or hill—negotiating traffic with an alertness that must arouse chagrin in those driving heavier and more sluggish cars. It rides as no car even of its own high-quality type ever rode before. It does all of the things it is called upon to do as no other car has ever done them before. The Chrysler has blazed a new way and ushered in a new day in motoring—that is why the whole country is Chrysler-wild today.

Martinez, Calif., Oct. 30—Practically the entire crew of the Associated Oil tanker Alden Anderson, destroyed by fire following explosion of 15,000 cases of gasoline on the oil company wharves near here, was accounted for today.

Six of the twelve missing members of the crew who leaped into the bay to escape the flames, reported to their officers today and officials said they believed the others escaped.

The total loss from the fire, which swept the dock and steamer, was estimated at $1,500,000.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28—Members of the Indiana Society of Architects, the Indiana Engineering Society, Associated Building Contractors of Indiana, and the Indiana Building Trades Organizations and many others interested in building construction will meet here November 30, for the second annual building conference, it was announced today.

The discussion will be centered around the activities of the state building council, and its advisory committee which were authorized by the list legislature to draw up rules and regulations for the proper enforcement of the state building laws.

The progress of the advisory committee will be reported on by J. H. Ownes, secretary, and member of the Associated Building Contractors.

The meeting will be concluded by an address by Dr. W. K. Hatt, member of the building code committee of the United States department of commerce, and head of the school of civil engineering of Purdue university on national building standards. The first gathering was held in Lafayette last year and, according to the announcement, so much interest was shown and so much constructive thought was brought out that it was decided that the building industry in Indiana would be greatly benefitted by an annual gathering of that kind.

Lad of 12 Gets Encouragement From Marine Band's Leader

When Captain William H. Santelmann, leader of the famous United States Marine band, which appeared here twice Wednesday, left the coliseum at the close of the afternoon concert, he found a lad of twelve years at the entrance to the stage eager to grasp his hand.

The boy was Maurice King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King of Morrisown, who unfolded his ambition in life to be a cornet soloist, before the world-famed band leader. The youngster told of his opportunity to take lessons of Simon, leader of a well known band at Middletown, Ohio, who composed "Willow Echoes", that Arthur S. Whitecomb played on the cornet Wednesday evening.

But there came a day last August when this lad of twelve had to leave Middletown with his parents to live in Morrisown, and he could no longer sit at the feet of his beloved teacher. He still practices diligently on his cornet, however.

The boy's chest expanded with pride when Capt. Santelmann spoke some words of encouragement and told him that he knew Simon and regarded him very highly.

The majesty of it.

The soloists received a more vociferous reception at night, probably due to the fact that the crowd was larger. The first soloist on the program was Principal Musician Arthur S. Whitecomb, who played "Willow Branches" on the cornet. For the second number he gave "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", and the demand for a third was so insistent that he played "Mother MacChree". Mr. Whitecomb demonstrated that the superlatives used in describing his ability had not been out of place.

The other soloist at the evening concert was Principal Musician Robert E. Clark, who played one of his own compositions, "May Blossoms", on the trombone. The mellowness of the tones he produced and the pleasing strains of the selection won a quick response from the people, who applauded him vigorously. His second was "Forgotten", and the third "Who Knows".

First Class Musician Frank Wihlitzhauser was very popular with the afternoon audience when he played the saxophone solo, "Theme and Variations of Tyrolean Folk Song." For an encore he gave "When the Lights are Low."

The other soloist at the afternoon concert was First Class Musician Wilbur D. Kieffer, who played the xylophone. It was so good that a second number was necessary.

Every selection by the band at both concerts won whole-hearted applause and every number was encored. Stirring martial airs, many

RUSHVILLE WILL OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

Lions Will Play First Game With Hopewell, Strong Johnson County Team

NO PRELIMINARY ON BOOK

The first basketball game of the season for the Rushville high school will be played here Friday night at the Graham high school annex gymnasium, when the Hopewell team of Johnson county will come.

It was announced today that there would not be any preliminary game, and the visiting team was told to report at 7:30, which will make the game start about 8:15.

All basketball fans are urged to turn out and witness the opener, which will give them some idea as to the outlook for the season. Hopewell comes with a reputation of having a team that will give a good account of itself, and the Lions may meet some opposition right at the first.

Lakin, who has been trying out at center, will be unable to play in the game Friday on account of injuries received in practice. The probable starting line-up will be Wainwright and Aroncke, forwards; Newbold center; McNamara at floor guard and with either Miller or Readle at back guard.

CUMBERLAND HERE SUNDAY

Strong Heavy Team Will Play Arlington A. C.'s Sunday

The Arlington Athletic club football team will meet the heavy Cumberland team at Arlington Sunday, in what is expected to be Arlington's hardest fought game of the season. Cumberland defeated Arlington last year, but the Arlington team is practicing hard this week and will try to even up by winning the game Sunday.

Cumberland will bring a large crowd of rooters with them and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected to attend. Arlington has four victories out of 5 starts this season. They will use their regular lineup including Means, Beasley, Sparks, Miller, Treis, Wilcoxen, Wicker, Rohm, Updike, Northam, Letherland, Wilson and Woodruff. The game will be called at 2:15.

Newark, N. J.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion easily won the decision over Jack Malone of St. Paul in a 12 round fight here. Walker's title was not at stake.

Were Giants, Senators Best

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 30—It was generally agreed that the world's series of 1921 was the best in history. It was an exciting and thrilling series between two evenly matched teams, but it was not the best played from a pure baseball standpoint. This may be of little importance as far as the fans are concerned, as the greatest appeal to the stands is found in interesting competition.

While the Washington Senators and the New York Giants were the champions of their leagues, they were not regarded as the best clubs by some very competent critics. This opinion certainly will not be accepted generally and even if it is true, the two pennant winners deserve all the more credit for coming through a winner with a team that wasn't as good as its opposition.

Billy Evans, one of the best judges of baseball in the business, expressed the opinion during the series that the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns were better ball clubs than the Senators. He followed the teams all year from the closest point of observation and his opinion is worth something. He said the Senators out-gamed and out-spirited stronger opposition.

Another factor that contributed to the success of the Senators was their good fortune in escaping injuries during the regular season. When the Washington club jumped out as a pennant possibility, the warning was sounded: "Look out for injuries!" The weak reserve strength of the Senators was well-known and admitted even by their club officials. It has been proved so many times that a team is no stronger than its reserves, that the Senators couldn't have hoped to win if they had suffered the physical mishaps that befell the Tigers and the Yankees.

The plight that the Senators would have been in if they had run into bad luck was almost shown fatally in the world's series when Roger Peckinpaugh had to get out of the game with a charley-horse and when Ralph Miller, a third baseman who wasn't good enough to hold a job with the feeble Philadelphia Phils, was found to be the only substitute serviceable on the bench. If that blow had been struck by fate in the last two weeks of the pennant race, the New York Yankees most likely would have been the American League entry in the series.

To attempt to take away any credit from the Senators for a most brilliant, a most deserving and a most popular victory is courting danger of physical retaliation from millions of fans and the risk is assumed only on the assumption that there might be some justice in referring to a few facts that are generally admitted as being true among baseball men.

Some National League partisans will not admit that the Senators were a better ball club than the Giants in the world's series. The argument may be countered with a question: "Why did the Senators win?" Giants fans will tell you that the Senators won on two crazy hops of a ball that would not hop that way again in twenty years in two critical places where a championship and a small fortune hung on each hop. That is true, of course, but it doesn't prove the inferiority of the American League champions.

The two teams in the series were shown from the first to the last pitch to be about the most evenly matched clubs that had ever furnished the entertainment in a world's series. When two clubs of even strength meet in a short series, the breaks always will decide the winner as they did this year.

CHAMPIONSHIPS HANG ON 3 GAMES

Sectional Superiority Will be Determined at Urbana, Syracuse and South Bend

GEORGE TECH. COMES NORTH

Southern Team Will Invade Notre Dame—Illinois-Iowa Game Will Be Important

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 30—Sectional championships may hang on three big games featuring the football card offered for national amusement next Saturday.

Illinois and Iowa meet at Urbana in the most important game of the western conference since the Michigan-Illinois game two weeks ago. It will be a game of more sectional interest because the whole country will be watching to see if Iowa is able to stop that great star, "Red" Grange.

Iowa is coached by a former Illinois associate of Bob Zuppke who may know a lot of things about Illinois' game, but Zuppke hardly will depend upon old stuff. So far this year the Illinois team hasn't been forced to show a thing more than Grange and it is quite certain that it has more equipment than one running back, great as he is.

In the east, where championships cannot be decided as officially as then can in the organized middle west, two undefeated and untied teams meet at Philadelphia in the Lafayette-Pennsylvania game. Lafayette has been through a harder test this year and is the favorite.

Syracuse plays another important eastern game against Pittsburg at Syracuse. Pittsburg has been beaten but they are always dangerous.

The Pacific coast will be interested in both games as there is a fine chance to have an eastern championship team play against a representative California team in the annual post-season classic. Pennsylvania has a game scheduled with California and Syracuse is to play Southern California.

The coach championship may be cleared Saturday also as California and Southern California meet in the first of the "big three" games.

Two other games will add an interesting feature to Saturday's program.

The strong Army team plays Yale at New Haven and Notre Dame plays Georgia Tech at South Bend. The betting favors the Army and Notre Dame.

MAN, 95, IS DEAD

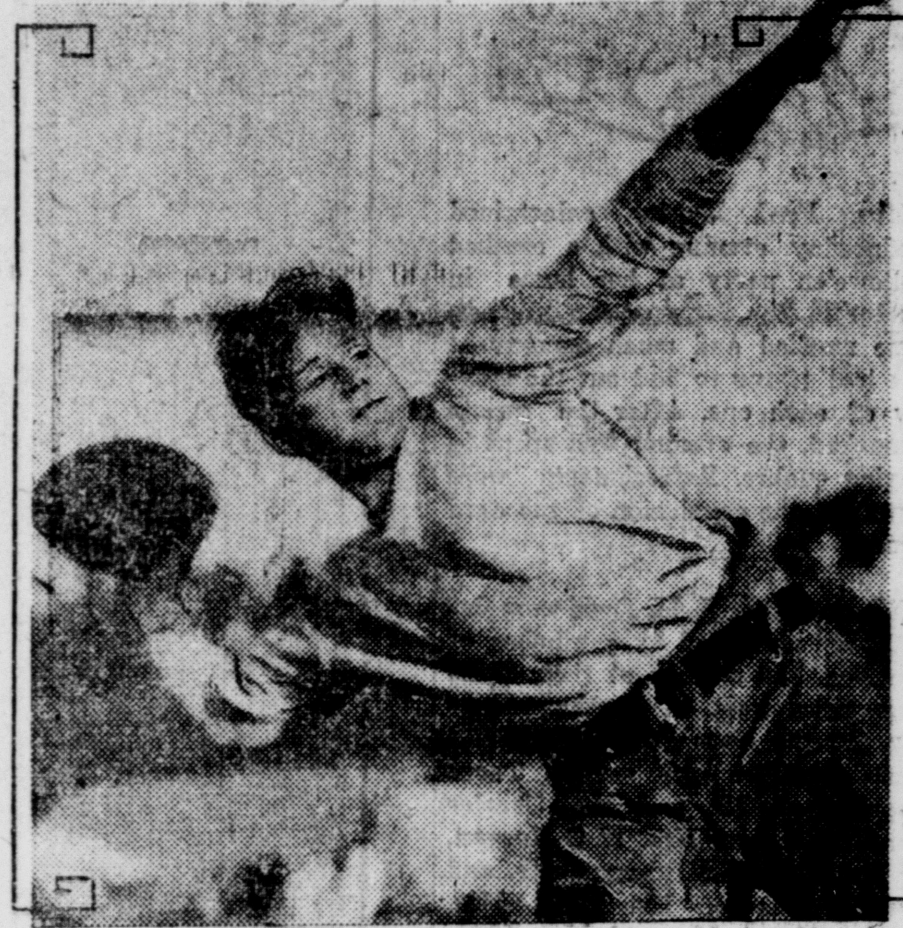

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 30—Charles Breckenridge, 95, Cass county's oldest citizen, died early today. His death was caused from infirmities due to advanced age.

Sees Death

Death is beautiful. Harry Wright of Chicago says so. He and death got acquainted the other day when Wright pitched from the fifth floor of a skyscraper. In a fall of 100 feet all he suffered was a bad case of fallen arches. "The fall was like going to a show," said Wright. "I saw my whole life from the time I was a kid."

All-America Possibility

Coach Glenn Warner of Stanford says Ernie Nevers is one of the greatest football players he has ever seen. Coast critics claim he is All-America timber.

ALONG SIDELINES

Madison—Ed Williams, Badger backfield player whom Coach Ryan had planned to start at QB against Notre Dame, was barred today from further competition in the western conference through a ruling of the athletic conference. He was ruled out on grounds that he has already played three years of college football.

Chicago—Under personal supervision of Coach Staggs the Maroons trotted through a long signal drill and settled to stiff scrimmage.

Evanston—Homecoming plans of Northwestern include defeat for Indiana. Patrick who captained the Frost last year, is slated for regular berth in the line.

Ann Arbor—Fielding Yost took day.

his Wolverines to Minneapolis today at noon. From the squad he took, it was expected the lineup would be about the same that trounced Wisconsin last Saturday.

Iowa City—The frantic search for a guard to replace Frechenstein became Ingwersens major problem today in rounding out his Hawkeyes for Illinois. Masintyre and Daniels are possibilities.

Urbana—Zuppke kept his Illini gridders on their toes for the Iowa game by letting it be understood that no player has his position "etched." Rivalry for line places added pep to the practice grind.

Columbus—Long worried over his offense, Coach Wilce sent his varsity against bulky scrubs and freshmen in a long scrimmage session. During the encounter he made notes of faults he expects to correct to day.

Bloomington—Long scrimmage that lasted until after dark completed Indiana's preparations for Northwestern yesterday and the team will leave for Evanston tonight.

South Bend—The pressing need for players to replace Captain Walsh and Stuhldrehr occupied Coach Rockne's attention today as the final scrimmage before the Georgia Tech game was held.

New Haven—The final scrimmage of the Yale varsity before the Army game was devoted to offensive practice against the scrubs. For the few minutes the scrubs had the ball, they were unable to make any headway using Army formations, while the varsity scored their touchdowns.

Cambridge—A substantial backfield will be used against Boston University, coaches indicated, as they sent the second string men through a hard scrimmage. All the practice is along offensive lines.

Princeton—The varsity was sent through a hard drill of tackling practice and breaking through, scrimmage being omitted as Coach Robert has promised it will be the rest of the season.

DESPITE FINE FALL WEATHER FURS BEING WORN BY WOMEN

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
Women are all making a rush upon the fur shops these early Fall days. Furs are being worn despite the fine weather. Short jackets are appearing by the hundreds until it seems that every second woman must own one of these fur affairs. Besides these jackets, there are numerous neck pieces and fur-trimmed coats and suits and scarcely any garment appears which is unfur-trimmed.

One is astonished at the popularity of the short jacket this year. It seemed as though we overplayed our hand on short jackets during the past two Spring seasons, but they have bobbed into style again and are being worn by both matron and Miss. The 1924 jackets have earmarks of their own, however. Firstly, the fur itself marks them as new models and then the length is new. The latest jackets come just a little below the hips and are made of natural golden-muskkrat, leopard cat and brown dyed caracul or sheared lamb. Lengths of 32 and 34 inch are considered ultra smart these days.

Among the popular types of jackets one finds the natural weasel, which is a tawny and white-toned fur. Another popular jacket is made of white coney. This latter type is worn mostly by young girls. Summer ermine, collared in natural blue fox, is a lively combination which several well dressed women are choosing.

Brown, caracul is perhaps the most popular jacket of the season, if one wishes to wear the most popular fur. Natural squirrel jackets are also coming into vogue again and these are popular with the young college Miss.

Raccoon coats of tomboy type are being sold in numbers to school girls. These sport coats are good looking, youthful, warm and particularly well suited to the flapper of today. They are quite inexpensive.

Another inexpensive coat which is new and very attractive is made of natural muskrat which is a golden brown fur. Long coats of this fur are trimmed with a longer and darker haired pelt and are most attractive. These will appeal to the woman of limited means who prefers a good-looking fur coat to a model.

Brown dyed caracul is replacing seal this season, according to the furriers. Women are tiring of seal and want novelty furs. Some of these caraculs are trimmed at border and on collar and cuffs with fox or skunk or other long-haired furs. Sheared lamb is used in the same manner and is prettiest when dyed a brownish shade.

White ermine evening wraps will be as popular as they ever were. Furriers state that they can not make them up fast enough to supply the demand. This season's ermine is untrimmed by tails and depends upon the manipulation of the tiny skins for its chic. Wraps and capes are a bit smarter than coats for evening wear this year.

Every woman wears some sort of a neckpiece this Fall, if her garment itself is not fur-trimmed. There are several new ways of wearing the fur-piece which will give one a smart appearance. First, the one animal skin, such as the fox, is worn wrapped tight about the throat with the tail hanging down the back. Two-skinned neckpieces are worn, with one animal clasping tightly about the throat and the other animal hanging straight down the front. All fur-pieces are worn tight about the neck these days. Where a small animal is used, the furpiece clasps at the side with the tail extending down the back. The off-the-shoulder manner of wearing neckpieces is entirely out of style. Small animal pieces are much more in demand than larger ones this year. Fisher and fitch are furs which are seen repeatedly.

Summer ermine collared in badger is one of the new combinations.

Huge Hudson stoles which extend to the hem of the garment may be bordered all around with a narrow band of fitch, where one wishes to make odd bits of old fur into a 1924 model.

Hudson seal jackets collared and cuffed in weasel is also attractive and new in appearance.

One can combine almost any furs these days. We see brown furs trimmed in tan or gray. White furs trimmed in leopard, seal, mink, etc., and other combinations which were formerly unheard of.

Richmond—Dr. Walter Woodward, editor of the American Friend, and Dr. Harlow Lindsey, head of the history department of Earlham college, will write a biography of the late Timothy Nicholson, veteran Quaker leader, and prominent in Indiana charitable work.

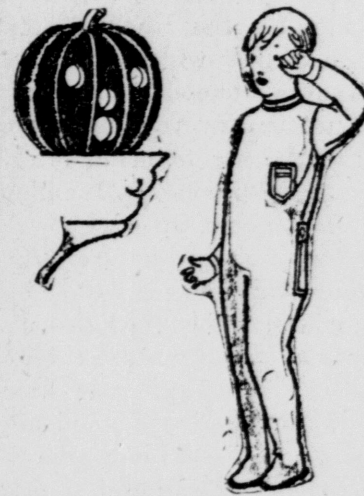

Richmond—The first manufactured gas to be used in Richmond has been turned on. It will only be on in the daytime, however until all the equipment of the gas plant has been installed.

TO FIGHT FOR LIVES ALONG SEPARATE LINES

Elsie Sweetin and L. M. Hight, Deposed Ina, Ill., Minister, Plan Different Campaigns

INSANITY PLEA WITHDRAWN

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 30—Fights for their lives along separate lines were planned today by attorneys for Lawrence M. Hight, poisoning pastor of Ina village, and his paramour, Elsie Sweetin, following Hight's plea of not guilty and his withdrawal of an insanity defense.

The next battle against the state's demand for the gallows for the confessed poisoners of the unfrocked Methodist minister's wife and the woman's husband will be held in circuit court Friday, when the woman's motion for a separate trial on the joint first degree murder indictments will be argued.

State alienists after examining Hight were said to have been ready to testify that he was sane, it was said. Hight motions for a continuance and for a change of venue from Jefferson county both were over-ruled by Judge J. C. Kern in circuit court during the session yesterday.

In corroboration of the pastor's story of a love conspiracy to kill both spouses to make way for their own love was not in the crowded court room. Hight seemed downcast when his attorneys' moves for delays were beaten.

Clinton—James Spencer leaped into eight feet of water in a cistern and rescued Jennie, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aitken, here. Spence, who could not swim, had difficulty in keeping himself from drowning.

Washington—The call for an ambulance here was a false alarm. Earl Simpson who was shocked at the Indiana Power Company, was revived before the ambulance arrived and went home unassisted.

RECEIVE PATIENTS EARLY NEXT MONTH

Riley Memorial Hospital Will be Ready Sometime Between November 5 and 10

65 APPLICANTS RECEIVED

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29—The James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Hospital for children will be opened here sometime between November 5 and 10 for the admission of patients, Robert E. Neff, superintendent, predicted here today.

He also predicted that there probably will be more applications than could be taken care of. The hospital, two weeks ago, sent out approximately 250 blanks and has already received 65 application blanks filled out in return.

The hospital has a capacity of 200 beds. Wards in it will accommodate from ten to twelve patients. Any child under sixteen years of age with a disease or deformity that is presumably curable or improvable will be admitted when vacancies arise.

Requests have been made for additional application blanks. The blanks are sent out to the various counties over the state, the quotas being determined by the size of the population. From Marion county six applications have been returned.

About 150 nurses have been chosen for the staff. The staff of physicians has not been completed yet, and will not be for a few days, Neff said.

Plumbing and electrical work has not been completed on the building yet and some of the hospital equipment has yet to be installed.

the business men, and showed how the two could be linked as partners in a successful manner.

Regular business matters were discussed and plans made for the next two meetings. The state chaplain of the American Legion will address the members next week and on the following Thursday night, the club will attend a community meeting at Carthage.

East Hardwick, Vt.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, side ache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said I would, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself? You look so well.' I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."

CHILDREN MAY SOLVE TRAFFIC

American School Children to Write
Essays on Vexing Question Now
Before Country

$6,500 IN CASH PRIZES

May Have Beneficial Effect in Reducing Number of Accidents and Fatalities by Traffic

Washington, Oct. 30—Can children solve the traffic problem?

In connection with the fourth national safety educational campaign announced today by the Highway Education Board, American school children are to be given an opportunity to answer the vexing question that now engages the attention of the best engineering minds of the country.

The announcement offers more than $6,500 in cash prizes and medals to elementary school pupils and elementary school teachers who submit the best essays and the best lessons in the 1924 national essay and national lesson contests. Officials of the Board are not optimistic enough to believe, it is said, that any final solution will come from the essays by children, but it is believed that a nation-wide consideration of the traffic problem will have a beneficial effect in reducing the number of accidents and fatalities on streets and highways.

The basic principle of the contest is to train children in careful conduct on the streets and highways and to impress upon them a sense of personal responsibility. This contest is the fourth consecutive competition conducted under the auspices of the Board, approximately one million, two hundred thousand pupils, an average of at least 400,000 annually, having participated in the three preceding contests.

All pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible to compete, whether attending public private or parochial schools.
Four hundred and eighty-eight checks and as many medals will be given for the best state essays, while three national prizes will be awarded for the three essays chosen as the best of all those to be written throughout the nation. The first national prize is a gold watch and a trip to Washington, with all third state prizes are gold watches of relative values.

All state and national prizes in the pupils contest are given by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which has incorporated in its safety program a plank calling for safety education in the schools. In addition to the prizes and medals for pupils, this organization offers to the teacher writing the best practical safety lesson a check for $500 and a trip to Washington. As second and third prizes checks for $300 and $200 will be given to the successful teachers.

Pupils are requested to write essays on the subject "My Conduct on Streets and Highways," while teachers are invited to prepare practical lessons for use in the class room. Essays are not to exceed 500 words in length, while lessons by teachers may vary between 1,000 and 3,000 words, according to the inclination of the teacher.

Each state is entitled to one first prize, a gold medal and a check for fifteen dollars, and to one second prize, a silver medal and a check for ten dollars. The number of third prizes, bronze medals and checks for five dollars, varies in proportion to the elementary school enrollment.

The Board announces that the cooperation of educators, the women's clubs, chambers of commerce, civic organizations, automobile clubs and others, that has marked these contests in the past is pledged for this year. Many communities, it is reported add strictly local prizes to the state and national awards offered.

Posters and folders containing detailed information concerning the contests are being sent to all schools throughout the country, as well as to Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines and the Canal Zone.
Individual requests will be promptly answered if addressed to the Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C.

New Type of Car Stirs Automobile World

It is an open car one moment and 30 seconds later same car is entirely enclosed. Studebaker Duplex ends need of hunting for side curtains in the dark and storm

A new type of car has stirred the automobile world as has nothing since the abandonment of the "buggy" style of body building.

It is the Studebaker Duplex, so called to indicate that it is an open car one moment, and 30 seconds later it is an enclosed car.

Like all great advances in the industrial arts, it is "so simple in operation, it is a wonder it wasn't thought of before" — — —

Particularly since its need has been growing, year by year, ever since automobiles were made.

Many people all of the time, and most people part of the time, want an open car—to bring to their riding the fresh crispness of the country air, and a free and untrammelled association with the great outdoors.

Yet for these same people, the snug comfort of the closed car, shutting out the storm and the wind and the cold, has been at times a necessity.

Two cars in one

The Studebaker Duplex is both cars in one. Just pull down the roller enclosures concealed in the roof of the car. In 30 seconds the open car has been made an enclosed car.

No hurried efforts to put up curtains; no hunting for the right one while the storm beats in; no mixing them up in the dark; no exposure through holes torn in them while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car — — —

Just pull down the roller enclosures giving instant enclosed car effect.

The body is built substantially—sides, corners and roof frame are of steel. The roof has curved steel sides and back; hardwood front. Steel, U-shaped cross beams, six of them, support the waterproofed, duplex fabric top and its linings. Here is permanent beauty, no sagging tops.

But Studebaker, on which the whole vehicle-using world has come to depend for reliability, would not rest on only one real contribution to the value given the public.

It must give all that engineering ability could devise.

Striking new features

So there are offered three distinct models of cars, to meet each of the three fields of demand—the Standard Six, with 113-inch wheelbase and 50 horsepower motor; the Special Six, with 120-inch wheelbase and 65 horsepower motor; the Big Six, most magnificent and luxurious of its products, with 127-inch wheelbase and 75 horsepower motor.

Duplex bodies are available on each line. In addition, closed models have workmanship and materials and beauty of line so far above the price class of the car, they must be seen to be appreciated.

Of scarcely less importance than the Duplex feature are other improvements such as, automatic ignition system, lighting control on the steering wheel, new location of emergency brake, improved one-piece windshield and many others.

The body lines, steering mechanism, and even the fenders of the new Studebaker were designed especially for genuine balloon tires. Thus the body lines harmonize with grace and beauty hitherto unattained, even by Studebaker.

Come in and see these new cars.

WORLD WAR MEN WORK FOR PEACE

Inter-Ally World War Veteran's Association Intends to Push Ambitious Program

REPRESENTS 9 COUNTRIES

Fidac has been invited to be Contact Point Between League of Nations and Ex-Service Men

Washington, Oct. 30—Bent upon establishing lasting world peace and aiding the war disabled, the Fidac, an inter-allied world war veteran's association, intends to push an ambitious program during the coming year.

The Fidac represents ex-service men organized in the nine allied countries, totaling ten million members. Col. Thomas W. Miller, U. S. Alien Property Custodian, was recently elected president of the organization and will leave for Paris soon to direct activities.

At a meeting in Paris five years ago of ex-service men from all allied countries, the Fidac was organized. American was represented at that meeting by the National Commander of the American Legion, F. W. Galbraith. Headquarters of the organization are in Paris, and its recent president was Deputy Charles Bertrand, member of the French Chamber of Deputies, and a distinguished veteran of the French army.

Col. Miller, a former war veteran, is prominent in American Legion circles. He was chairman of the resolutions committee at the San Francisco convention in 1923. He is a former Congressman from Delaware and a graduate of Yale University. Miller enlisted July, 1917, as a private in the army and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in September, 1919. He served eleven months in France and received a citation for gallantry in action. Miller also is a member of the American Battle Monuments Commission, appointed to select suitable sites on European battlefields where memorials in honor of American troops killed in the war may be erected.

American delegates to the Fidac are selected by the American Legion. At the annual congress in London a short time ago women's auxiliaries of the allied veteran's associations were taken into membership.

"A section of the League of Nations devoted to ex-service men and their problems," said Col. Miller, "has been suggested, and the Fidac has been invited to be the contact point between the League and the ex-service men. If this plan is carried out, we will have an 'unofficial observer' at Geneva. Plans are also being made to have representatives participate unofficially in the Arms Conference to be held in Europe next summer.

"While this is unofficial, it is an indication that the powers that be in the foreign countries realize that when they are making plans for a lasting peace they will receive the utmost of help from the men and women who suffered most directly from the privations of the recent war. Plans are also in force to work for the disabled men and women who served in the war and also to combat communists in Europe and in America."

When Everything Seems Wrong

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 89
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

There are times when a victim of disease suffers in so many ways, and exhibits so many diverse symptoms that the practitioner whose method is to treat symptoms cannot classify the trouble and gravely terms it a complication of diseases.

Oftentimes it happens that the treatment intended to relieve one symptom aggravates another. It is such cases that the superiority of Chiropractic becomes manifest.

For Chiropractic deals not with symptoms or effects but gets back to the cause—pressure on nerves resulting in impaired communication between organ and brain. Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments remove such pressure and normal health follows.

Health turns the Clock Backward

UNCLE BEN SAYS:

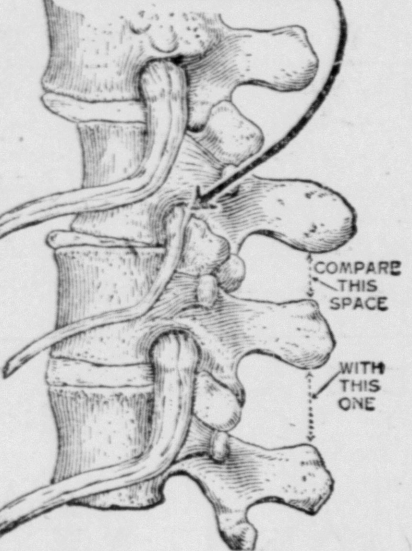

"That child-labor amendment would be more popular with lots of folks. Nephew, if they had made the age limit $1 instead of 18."

The Complication was Simple to Chiropractic

Having submitted to two operations for complication of diseases, and finding no relief, I became terribly discouraged until I was informed by several of my friends that Chiropractic adjustments would possibly be of great benefit to me. Two months ago I called on a Chiropractor. I can gratefully say that I received wonderful results in that time, and am very thankful to the chiropractor and to my friends who informed me of this very beneficial work."

200,000 PERSONS BOUGHT LICENSES

New Record Established for Greatest Number of Sales in Hunting and Fishing Licenses

INDIANA GOOD GAME STATE

13,829 Licenses Were Sold in 1924 to Non-Resident Fishermen and 267 to Hunters

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30—Nearly 200,000 persons purchased hunting and fishing licenses in Indiana during the fiscal year which closed September 30, marking the greatest number of sales in the history of the state, according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation department.

Mannfeld is preparing his annual report for the commission and Director Richard Lieber of the state conservation department, and figures he will submit show that Indiana in the last five years has leaped into great prominence as one of the best states in the Union for fishing and hunting small wild game.

The report will show that in fiscal 1924 this division sold 195,822 licenses. Of this number 13,829 went to non-resident fishermen, and 267 to non-resident hunters. This is a net gain of 19,052 licenses over 1923, and 103,156 more licenses than sold in 1918. It demonstrates, Mannfeld says, that the public is becoming educated to the need of helping to keep small wild game in the fields and woods and stock fish in public waters. Most of the money raised by this division is expended for propagating fish, and protecting fish and game through a warden service. A new hatchery was added this year at Avoca in Lawrence county. Total license sales in 1918 only numbered 92,666.

The division lists its total receipts at $190,976.71 for fiscal 1924, compared to $170,065.80 for the same period in 1923. This is a gain of $20,910.91. In 1918 prior to establishment of the conservation department and when the office operated independently, receipts amounted to only $89,149.96.

The report will set out that 2,200 persons were arrested for violating fish and game laws during 1924, and the division secured 2,127 convictions that cost violators $42,870.25 in fines and costs. The fines go to the public schools of our state. There were 517 more convictions in 1924 than in 1923. The report calls attention that in 1918 there were 347 persons convicted of law violations

Obituary

Sarah Ellen Lawson, wife of Joseph Gregory was born in Decatur County, Indiana, August 27, 1849 and died Wednesday October 22, 1924, at her home in Rushville, being aged 75 years, 1 month and 25 days.

On September 20th 1871 she was united in marriage to Joseph Gregory and to this union were born seven children namely: Rollie of St. Paul, Indiana, Lizzie of the home, Mrs. Jesse Ross, Hershel, Herbert and Mrs. Hazel Larmore, all of Rushville and Maudie, who died in infancy.

For the past 32 years, her home has been in Rushville where she made for herself many friends, being a good neighbor, a faithful wife and a true mother, devoted to the interests of her family.

During her recent sickness she was led to make public her faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as her Savior and was received into the membership of the First Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. Gibson Wilson.

She is survived by her husband, six children, eleven grand children, eight great grandchildren and two brothers, James Lawson of near Greensburg and John of Homer.

Now that she hath ceased from her labors and is at rest, let us seek to emulate all that was good in her life, keeping our eye upon the city that is eternal, whose makes and builder is God.

The funeral service was held at the home Friday afternoon, by her pastor, the Rev. Gibson Wilson and interment was in East Hill Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to the neighbors, friends and all who so kindly helped us at the time of the death of wife and mother. We especially wish to thank Rev. Wilson, the singers and Geo. C. Wyatt and Co.

Hoosier State Automobile Association Sees Results in Conference Held Recently

GRADE CROSSING A TOPIC

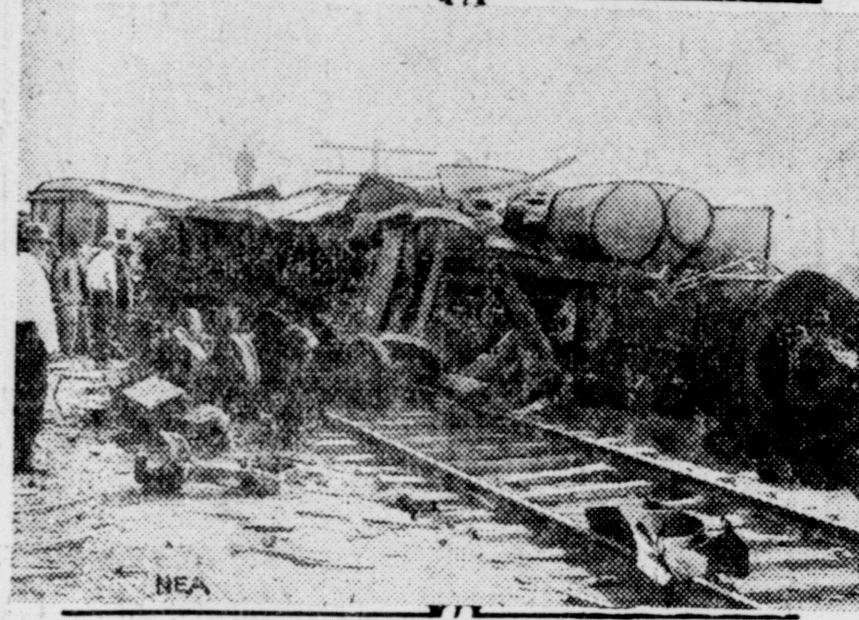

Proposal Endorsed to Make it Law For all Motorists to Stop Before Crossing a Track

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30—Every automobile owner in Indiana and every official interested in safety and traffic regulation may now feel that Indiana is well on the right path toward a sane solution of many problems affecting the ownership and operation of motor vehicles on the highways of the state, as a result of the recent grade crossing safety conference held in the state house, according to the views held by the officers and directors of the Hoosier State Auto Association representing every part of Indiana.

"The fact that the conference distinctly did not go on record as favoring a driver's license law is significant," a bulletin of the association says. "The further fact that a proposal to require all vehicles to come to a full stop at every railroad and interurban crossing in the state was not adopted is also of significance," it was added. "The proposal was that stops be required under severe penalties at crossings that are known to be particularly dangerous, is a safe and sane suggestion that may well be made into law," the bulletin added.

It was pointed out that the conference was held to the lines of grade crossing safety matters but that the entire field of regulation was touched on in various addresses. In lieu of a driver's license law, it has been advocated by H. D. McClelland, manager of the auto license bureau of the secretary of state office, that provision be made for suspension of the car license for fixed periods in case of conviction of certain law violations. This, it was pointed out by the auto association officials, would achieve a similar end to that sought by a driver's license law without entailing any additional expense for administration.

When Horse Got in Train's Way

This picture shows what happened near Sweetwater, Tex., when a horse meandered out on the tracks in front of the Sunshine Special, crack passenger train of the Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific lines. Engineer and fireman were killed. The train at the time was traveling at a high rate of speed, trying to make up lost time.

The state auto association also expresses itself as being highly pleased in the selection of Frank Singleton of Martinsville, a member of the public service commission, as society commissioner. It is the understanding that an unofficial advisory committee representing various interests is to be selected to act with Commissioner Singleton, their time being donated as far as the state is concerned.

"There has been much rabid talk about imposing restrictions and penalties on the use of automobiles with the idea of amputating the infected toe by cutting off the entire leg," the association bulletin declared. "We fully believe that the good sense of the people of Indiana will be reflected by wise and sane needed legislation in the fighting for safety and protection for years and we pledge renewed efforts along all proper lines in the matter of shaping legislation looking to such desired objectives," the bulletin concludes.

Movies

Last Showing of "Sea Hawk"

"The Sea Hawk" which is the feature at the Princess Theatre will continue its showing until after today according to the announcement of the management today. Ever since its premier the Frank Lloyd-Frost National picture version of Sabatini's colorful story of sixteenth century piracy and romance has been greeted by enthusiastic capacity audiences, and it seems likely that before its showing is concluded "The Sea Hawk" will have established new motion picture history.

Milton Sills is seen as the principal male character of "The Sea Hawk" and in the large supporting cast are Enid Bennett, Marc MacDermott, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes, Frank Currier, Wallace MacDonald, William Collier, Jr., Mme. Medea Radzina, Hector V. Sarno, Claire du Brey, Lionel Belmore, Albert Prisco, Fred de Silva, Bobbie Bolder, Kathleen Key and many others well known to followers of the cinema.

Several night battles between two large ancient ships and a number of daylight encounters between Spanish and Moorish buccaneering craft are among the big scenes of "The Sea Hawk". An entire Algerian village, with slave markets, four gigantic ships, two of them rowed by galley slaves at the oars, an English castle and numerous large interior setting have been necessary to give "The Sea Hawk" a proper background, yet all of the massive settings and gorgeous wardrobe are merely incidental to the real bigness of the production, its dramatic action, which critics report to be the most spirited and thrilling ever seen on the screen.

TWO SCHOOL BOYS HURT IN MISHAPS

Robert Elliott Only Slightly Hurt

GOING HOME FROM SCHOOL

Richard Dishinger Suffers Scalp
Wound When Struck by Carelessly
Tossed Horseshoe

Two youngsters, both in the third grade at the Havens school, were injured in mishaps shortly before noon today, when Robert Elliott was struck by an automobile and Richard Dishinger was hit in the head with a carelessly tossed horseshoe.

Young Elliott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott, 640 West Water street. He was leaving the school with other children, and attempted to cross Third street at Buena Vista avenue, in front of an automobile driven by William Grocox, who lives west of Rushville.

Mr. Grocox had slowed down for the railroad crossing, and the boy was only slightly bumped. He received cuts across the face and a bruised lip. No bones were broken.

Young Dishinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dishinger, 401 North Jackson street. He was with other playmates on the school ground throwing horseshoes, when one of the lads tossed one wild, and it came down on his head.

A deep gash was inflicted in his scalp. Both boys were taken to the office of Dr. E. I. Wooden at about the same time and their injuries were dressed.

Each boy suffered from the loss of blood, but otherwise were not seriously hurt.

WILLIAM GAHMER, SR. DIES THIS MORNING

Prominent Farmer and Large Land
Owner Expires at the Age of
Eighty-one Years

BORN IN WALKER TOWNSHIP

William Gahmer, Sr., age eighty-one years, one of the most prominent farmers and largest land owners in Orange township, died this morning at his home following a long sickness. His condition has been such that he has been unable to attend to his affairs and Gus Riley has been acting as his guardian.

Mr. Gahmer's parents were natives of Alsace Lorraine and he was born soon after they came to this country. His birthplace was in Walker township, but he lived in Orange township most of his life and through thrift and industry accumulated five hundred acres of land. He ran a threshing machine and clover huller for many years.

The deceased was married twice, but both wives are dead. He is survived by five sons, Julius, Conrad, Eddie, William and George. A daughter, Mrs. George Ritter, died several months ago, and another son, Augustus, died about two years ago. Three other children are also dead. Other survivors are a brother, Daniel Gahmer, 25 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at the German church in Union township, Shelby county, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of the pastor, assisted by the Rev. Loren Tillison, and burial will take place in the church cemetery. He was a member of this church.

BAND DELIGHTS TWO AUDIENCES

U. S. Marine Musicians are Vigorously Applauded by Crowds at Both Concerts Wednesday

SOLOISTS WIN APPROVAL

Cornet and Trombone Selections Especially Popular With Audience
in The Evening

The United States Marine band, regarded as the premier band in the United States, entertained two audiences at the Memorial park coliseum Wednesday, and went on to Indianapolis this morning for two concerts at the Cadle tabernacle tonight.

The number of people attending both concerts could not be definitely determined today as all of the tickets sold in advance had not been reported, but indications were that the Daily Republican, sponsor for the appearance of the band here, would lose money on the project.

The sponsors had the active support of the Rush County Child Welfare association, with chairwomen in every township, and the Boy Scouts in Rushville. Both organizations made a thorough canvass, but it was estimated today that the receipts would not be sufficient to meet the expenses.

The Daily Republican guaranteed $1,500 for the two concerts, which is the guarantee which the band requires for every day's concerts, whether they are given in Rushville, Newcastle, Richmond, Indianapolis or any other city.

The music by the band was a rare treat for those who took advantage of the opportunity to hear the famous musicians. The audiences at both concerts were very appreciative and gave evidence of their appreciation by most liberal applause.

If any comparisons could be made between the two concerts, those who heard both would probably favor the night concert. The closing selection by the band, "Reminiscences of Tchaikowsky" by Godfrey, was probably the outstanding number. People were stirred to the depths by

Labor Sustains Crushing Defeat in Election, But Will Constitute
Official Opposition

LIBERAL PARTY CRUSHED

London, Oct. 30—The Conservatives have swept the country and will have a majority of approximately 85,000 in the next parliament.

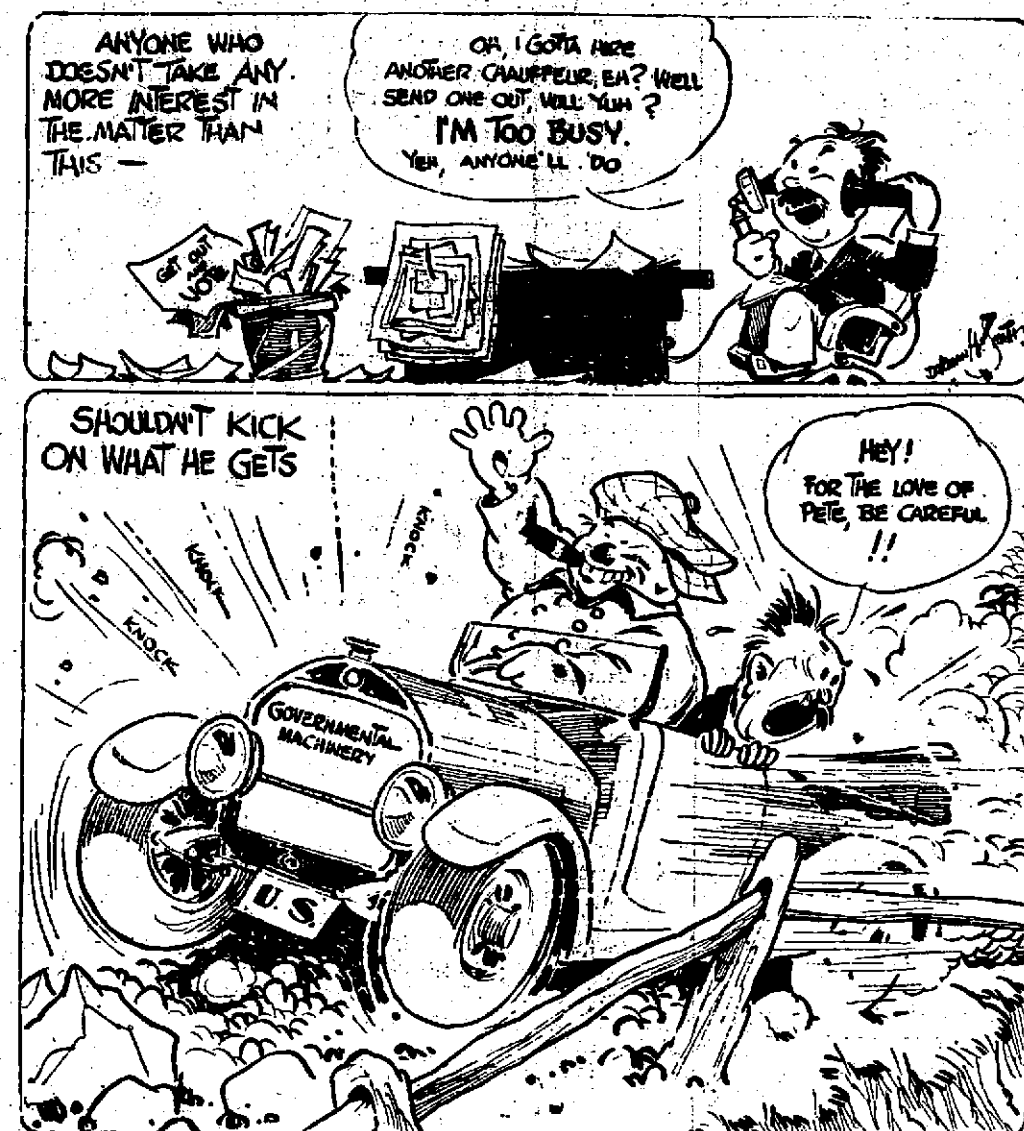

Labor sustained a defeat, many of its leaders going down before the Conservative landslide, but will constitute the official opposition in the next parliament.

The swing to the right which carried the Conservatives in, nearly crushed the Liberal party out of existence.

The Liberals lost more than 100 seats and will have the smallest parliamentary representation in their history.

The Tories had won 376 seats by 5 p. m. with the prospect of holding some over four hundred when the results are all tabulated.

The deceased was brought to the hospital last Saturday and underwent an operation Monday, but her condition was too critical to withstand the operation.

Her body was taken to the late residence, a mile east and a mile north of Raleigh. She is survived by the husband and five children, who are Mrs. Gladys Kirkham of Connersville, Melvin Cole of near Bentonville, Florence, Lawrence and Floyd Cole, who live at home.

She also is survived by her mother, Mrs. James R. Nixon of this county, two sisters, Mrs. Omer Pierston of near Fairview and Mrs. Bert Miles of near Raleigh and a brother Robert Nixon of Jackson township.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon at the Christian church in Raleigh, in charge of the Rev. Mr. Wilson of Richmond, and burial will be made in Zion cemetery. Friends may call at the late residence any time preceding the removal of the body to the church.

FOR A GIRL'S DORMITORY

Land Valued at $150,000 Goes to
Purdue for This Purpose

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 30—Execution of a trust deed for land valued at $150,000 in Benton county, proceeds of which will be used to erect a girl's dormitory at Purdue, was made today by Mrs. Harriet Small of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The hall will be a memorial to Mrs. Ophelia Duhme, a former resident of Fowler, Ind., and will be erected after the death of Mrs. Small.

The suit marked the end of long litigation over the will of Mrs. Duhme, who named Mrs. Small chief beneficiary and provided that the money for building the dormitory should be turned over to the university after the death of Mrs. Small.

ACCUSED SON OF STAND

M. L. Kincaid Charged with Father's
Murder, Testifies at Noblesville

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 30—M. L. Kincaid on trial here for the murder of his father, James J. Kincaid, took the stand in his own defense today.

Kincaid testified he saw his father alive on the morning of February 2, this year. The state contends the father was slain on the night of February 1.

The accused son explained the presence of spots of blood found on the Kincaid farm, by saying he killed three chickens the night before the death of his father.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

REQUESTS YOUNG FOLKS NOT TO SOAP WINDOWS

Mayor Walter R. Thomas Believes
Responses Will be as Good as it
Was Last Year

OLD PRACTICES CHANGING

Mayor Walter R. Thomas today issued an appeal to the boys and girls of Rushville not to soap windows on Halloween night or the night before the holiday. I believe they will do equally as well this year, because if they stop to think, they accomplish nothing by marking up windows and they cause other people trouble and hard work.

Disorder on Halloween night is a rare thing nowadays as the rowdiness that once prevailed on the night of witches no longer seems to be popular. Boys and girls still hold to the custom of masking and they have their plans ready for a disguise that will confound their friends. Many Halloween parties have been announced.

Plans are being made to have each school in the county represented by a delegate at roll call. The completed program will be announced in a few days.

Coolidge Still Leads by Big Majority
in Literary Digest Poll

New York, Oct. 30—Final totals of the Literary Digest poll of 2,386,053 voters published today, shows President Coolidge leading with 1,348,003 votes. Senator LaFollette second, with 508,516 and John W. Davis immediately at LaFollette's heels with 505,410.

On the basis of "straw" returns LaFollette, however, is given only Wisconsin. Davis was given Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, in fact, all the solid south, while Coolidge is given everything else, except California, Nevada, Oklahoma and North and South Dakota, West Virginia, and Maryland, all of which are listed as "doubtful".

RICHMOND MAN PRESIDENT

Each Address on Program Followed

of Members

The One Hundred Fourteenth semi-annual meeting of the Union District Medical association, was in session today in Rushville, with the business program and addresses being in the assembly room of the court house, and a banquet served at noon today at the Scanlon hotel.

The Union district medical association is composed of physicians and surgeons of six counties in eastern Indiana and two counties of Western Ohio, including in Indiana, Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Rush, Union, Wayne and in Ohio, Butler and Preble counties.

The membership of the association is composed of 212 physicians, with a big representation of the profession from Cincinnati and Hamilton being in the list.

The sessions began today shortly before noon and were to continue until late this afternoon. The association has been here on several occasions before, and the professional men always have an entertaining program at their gatherings twice a year.

The program that was to be followed this afternoon included an address by Dr. Ralph G. Carothers of Cincinnati on the treatment of fractures of the neck of the femur, and this was to be followed by a discussion on the subject by Dr. H. M. Lowell of Hamilton.

V. C. Griffin of Richmond was to speak on Anaesthesia, and this discussion was to be in charge of Dr. L. G. Bowers of Dayton.

NAMED RECEIVER FOR LOCAL MEAT MARKET

William E. Inlow Appointed to
Charge of Affairs of Weeks Fresh
Meat and Provision Co.

BANK ASKED RECEIVERSHIP

William E. Inlow has been appointed receiver for the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company of this city, following a petition asking for a receivership by the Rushville National bank.

The bank recently filed suit for $1,400 on a note, and in their petition for a receiver, alleges that the concern is insolvent because of other court cases, and that the interests of the creditors should be protected. Mr. Inlow provided bond, and assumed charge of the place today.

There are only minor court matters heard these days in court, as attorneys requested that no cases be set for trial until after election.

Several criminal cases will be tried in the early part of the November court term. The present term of court ends November 8.

CANDIDATES ARE ON FINAL STRETCH

Mass Meetings, Torchlight Parades
and Luncheons Arranged For
Last Push

PROBERS REDOUBLE EFFORTS

Campaign Expenditures Investigation
Committee Wants all Evidence
Before Election

(By United Press)
With only three campaigning days remaining before election, political leaders throughout the nation today rallied their sources for final booming of their candidates.

Mass meetings, torchlight parades, dinners and luncheons were arranged down to the lowliest ward in preparation for carrying the campaigns down to the final wire.

The three presidential candidates continued along their campaign schedule. President Coolidge met his supporters calling at the White House. John W. Davis prepared for a series of speeches tonight in his own Long Island neighborhood. Senator LaFollette moved on toward Boston for a speech there tonight in the former home city of his Republican opponent.

Conductors of the campaign expenditure investigations in Washington and Chicago, redoubled their efforts to get all possible evidence before election day.

Davis in a statement assailed the Republican tariff law and promised if elected to guarantee adoption of a substitute measure "friendly to all legitimate business but impartial to none."

LaFollette issued a statement at Albany, charging that Attorney General Stone in his decision regarding income tax publicity was "merely threatening honest newspapers of the country" because he knew "publication of these lists and the scandalous evasion of taxes revealed is making millions of votes for the progressive cause."

The stumping vice presidential candidates drew their tours near a close. General Dawes invaded Missouri, while Senator Wheeler returned to Ohio, speaking in Toledo for the second time since his tour began.

Carries Fight to Missouri

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30—General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, today carried the fight against "radicalism" and the LaFollette supreme court program across Missouri to St. Joseph.

In his address here last night to a large audience in the coliseum, Dawes devoted himself almost entirely to what he called the one issue of the campaign—maintenance

COMPENSATION PLEA HEARD BY STATE BOARD

John Roberts of Glenwood Claims
he Lost Sight of One Eye Employed in Blacksmith Shop

JOHN F. MAPES IS DEFENDANT

A complaint for liability compensation was heard this morning in the court house by a representative of the state industrial board, in the petition of John Roberts of Glenwood.

Roberts charges in his petition for compensation, that he lost the sight of an eye while employed in the blacksmith shop owned by John F. Mapes of Glenwood. Evidence was introduced by Mr. Mapes to attempt to show that the eyesight was affected by a disease, and was not injured from a piece of material that might have lied into his eye from a lathe. The evidence was not complete, because a motion was passed in which expert examination of the eye will be permitted by a disinterested eye surgeon.

The petitioner is seeking to recover the compensation allowed on a weekly basis. It is understood that Mr. Mapes did not carry liability insurance. He quit the blacksmith trade several months ago, he said on examination, and on further testimony stated that he had sold his tools and stock yesterday.

The LaFollette ticket, he said, proposes "at one blow to destroy the balance of power and to make the judicial and executive branches of the government subservient to the passing whim of any radical majority which may ride into power in congress."

Dawes again denounced LaFollette as "the arch demagogue" and declared there was no room in the campaign for the Democrats' when one conservative party and one radical party in the race.

Watson Assails Bryan

Greensburg, Ind., Oct. 30—Senator James E. Watson assailed William Jennings Bryan in reviewing his political career before an audience of Decatur county Republicans last night.

"Bryan has had some paramount issue and some foggy man to frighten the voters since his first campaign in 1896," Watson said. "Each campaign he has had to find a new hobby of the previous campaign was always worn out."

"Now his hobby is holding up John W. Davis and Brother Charley as the only real progressives, completely forgetting that he denounced Davis as a reactionary before the Democratic convention a few months ago."

Bryan at Cadle Tabernacle

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30—Playing the Republican party in mercenary terms, William Jennings Bryan, speaking at a mass meeting in Cadle tabernacle here last night, declared the only hope of progressive voters in the present campaign is to rally to the Davis standard.

The Commencement paid tribute to the personal integrity of President Coolidge but branded him as the "worst of all reactionaries."

There is no hope for the election of LaFollette, Bryan said, and the only recourse is for the progressive of every political party to vote for Davis.

"If the progressive vote is divided we cannot win and the reactionaries will be firmly in the saddle for the next four years," Bryan declared.

Bryan aired the old scandals and said he "blamed the system as well as the man."

Jackson in Northern Indiana

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 30—Ed Jackson, Republican nominee for governor, was making his final swing through northern Indiana today.

Jackson was scheduled to speak at Winamac this afternoon and to address a rally of St. Joseph county Republicans here tonight.

Speaking at Valparaiso last night, Jackson made threefold appeal to the voters of Porter county, pledging efficiency, economy and honesty in government if he is elected.

Porter county organization workers told him he would carry the county by at least 5,000 majority. Arthur Gilliam, South Bend, candidate for attorney general, addressed the Valparaiso meeting and assailed the LaFollette proposals for curtailment of the power of the United States Supreme court.

Defends Constitution

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 30—Concentrating his attack on the LaFollette proposals for amendments to the Constitution, Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator, spoke to a gathering of twelfth district Republicans here last night.

"For the next few years this country wants no daring experiments, no political adventure flashing across the stage," Beveridge said. "A plain American citizen who keeps his head and does his duty is the type of executive we need."

Harold Van Orman, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke with Beveridge. Van Orman pledged himself to uphold all the laws on the statute books if elected.

In McCray's Home Town

Kentland, Ind., Oct. 30—Campaigning in the home town of former Governor McCray, Dr. Carleton McCulloch, Democratic nominee for governor, last night brought up "common honesty and keeping faith with the public trust," as the greatest issues of the election.

"The public mind is in revolt against the stories of graft that comes to us on every hand," McCulloch said. "When a political party has betrayed its trust like the present administration, the leaders justly deserve the rebuke they will get at the polls."

McCulloch urged Republicans to vote with the Democrat party this fall to "register their disapproval of the leadership of their party."

The candidate declared for reduction in the number of state boards

CHRYSLER

Why The Country Is Chrysler-Wild Today

It is a revelation to sit in a Chrysler and look up at other cars you pass. The contrast is so marked that it recalls the days when the safety bicycle obsoleted the old high wheel over night. Viewed from the snug, low-hung comfort of the Chrysler, the others look awkwardly high and unwieldy. Not only do they appear unnecessarily high, but unnecessarily heavy and cumbersome. The delight which this contrast arouses is stimulated when the Chrysler gets under way. It has a flashing acceleration which is literally a new experience. Just as it is smartly unusual in appearance and conservation of space and height and weight, so it is strikingly unusual in performance. It romps away from its unwieldier brethren with ease, on level, or grade, or hill—negotiating traffic with an alertness that must arouse chagrin in those driving heavier and more sluggish cars. It rides as no car even of its own high-quality type ever rode before. It does all of the things it is called upon to do as no other car has ever done them before. The Chrysler has blazed a new way and ushered in a new day in motoring—that is why the whole country is Chrysler-wild today.

SEEKS PAPERS THAT APPEAR AS TARGETS

Attorney General Stone Instructs U. S. Attorneys to Prepare For Prosecution of Newspapers

TWO ALREADY SINGLED OUT

Washington, Oct. 30—Attorney General Stone today called upon United States attorneys in sections where income tax returns were printed "most freely" to report to him the newspapers which appeared to be the targets for government prosecution.

In selecting the test case or cases, Stone will be guided by the reports of the attorneys, which will be studied to "determine where the apparent law has been most wilfully violated."

Stone would not specify which attorneys had been called on for the evidence. He said however, two papers in particular had been singled out for special investigation.

"We have not necessarily restricted ourselves to prosecute of one newspaper," Stone told the United Press, "but may, if the evidence warrants, decide to institute several test cases."

Stone indicated the actions of the newspapers after Solicitor General Beck issued his warning that publication was at the risk of the papers would have great weight in selecting the paper to be prosecuted.

"A paper, or papers which printed returns in the face of warnings of the treasury department and Solicitor Beck appears to me personally at this time to be the most likely candidate, or candidates," Stone said.

Lad of 12 Gets Encouragement From Marine Band's Leader

When Captain William H. Santelmann, leader of the famous United States Marine band, which appeared here twice Wednesday, left the coliseum at the close of the afternoon concert, he found a lad of twelve years at the entrance to the stage eager to grasp his hand.

The boy was Maurice King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King of Morrisown, who unfolded his ambition in life to be a cornet soloist, before the world-famed band leader. The youngster told of his opportunity to take lessons of Simon, leader of a well-known band at Middletown, Ohio, who composed "Willow Echoes", that Arthur S. Whitecomb played on the cornet Wednesday evening.

But there came a day last August when this lad of twelve had to leave Middletown with his parents to live in Morrisown, and he could no longer sit at the feet of his beloved teacher. He still practices diligently on his cornet, however.

The boy's chest expanded with pride when Capt. Santelmann spoke some words of encouragement and told him that he knew Simon and regarded him very highly.

the majesty of it.

The soloists received a more vociferous reception at night, probably due to the fact that the crowd was larger. The first soloist on the program was Principal Musician Arthur S. Whitecomb, who played "Willow Branches" on the cornet. For the second number he gave "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", and the demand for a third was so insistent that he played "Mother MacChree". Mr. Whitecomb demonstrated that the superlatives used in describing his ability had not been out of place.

The other soloist at the evening concert was Principal Musician Robert E. Clark, who played one of his own compositions, "May Blossoms", on the trombone. The mellowness of the tones he produced and the pleasing strains of the selection won a quick response from the people, who applauded him vigorously. His second was "Forgotten", and the third "Who Knows".

First Class Musician Frank Wiltzhauser was very popular with the afternoon audience when he played the saxophone solo, "Theme and Variations of Tyrolean Folk Song." For an encore he gave "When the Lights are Low."

The other soloist at the afternoon concert was First Class Musician Wilbur D. Kieffer, who played the Xylophone. It was so good that a second number was necessary.

Every selection by the band at both concerts won whole-hearted applause and every number was encored. Stirring martial airs, many

SOME PROGRAM

RUSHVILLE WILL OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

Lions Will Play First Game With Hopewell, Strong Johnson County Team

NO PRELIMINARY ON BOOK

The first basketball game of the season for the Rushville high school will be played here Friday night at the Graham high school annex gymnasium, when the Hopewell team of Johnson county will come.

It was announced today that there would not be any preliminary game, and the visiting team was told to report at 7:30, which will make the game start about 8:15.

All basketball fans are urged to turn out and witness the opener, which will give them some idea as to the outlook for the season. Hopewell comes with a reputation of having a team that will give a good account of itself, and the Lions may meet some opposition right at the first.

Lakin, who has been trying out at center, will be unable to play in the game Friday on account of injuries received in practice. The probable starting line-up will be Wainwright and Arbuckle, forwards; Newbold center; McNamara at floor guard and with either Miller or Readle at back guard.

CUMBERLAND HERE SUNDAY

Strong Heavy Team Will Play Arlington A. C.'s Sunday

The Arlington Athletic club football team will meet the heavy Cumberland team at Arlington Sunday, in what is expected to be Arlington's hardest fought game of the season. Cumberland defeated Arlington last year, but the Arlington team is practicing hard this week and will try to even up by winning the game Sunday.

Cumberland will bring a large crowd of rooters with them and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected to attend. Arlington has four victories out of 5 starts this season. They will use their regular lineup including Means, Beasley, Sparks, Miller, Treis, Wilcoxen, Wiegler, Rohm, Updike, Northam, Letherland, Wilson, and Woodruff. The game will be called at 2:15.

Newark, N. J.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion easily won the decision over Jack Malone of St. Paul in a 12 round fight here. Walker's title was not at stake.

Were Giants, Senators Best

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 30—It was generally agreed that the world's series of 1921 was the best in history. It was an exciting and thrilling series between two evenly matched teams, but it was not the best played from a pure baseball standpoint. This may be of little importance as far as the fans are concerned, as the greatest appeal to the stands is found in interesting competition.

While the Washington Senators and the New York Giants were the champions of their leagues, they were not regarded as the best clubs by some very competent critics. This opinion certainly will not be accepted generally and even if it is true, the two pennant winners deserve all the more credit for coming through a winner with a team that wasn't as good as its opposition.

Billy Evans, one of the best judges of baseball in the business, expressed the opinion during the series that the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns were better ball clubs than the Senators. He followed the teams all year from the closest point of observation and his opinion is worth something. He said the Senators out-gamed and out-spirited stronger opposition.

Another factor that contributed to the success of the Senators was their good fortune in escaping injuries during the regular season. When the Washington club jumped out as a pennant possibility, the warning was sounded: "Look out for injuries!" The weak reserve strength of the Senators was well-known and admitted even by their club officials. It has been proved so many times that a team is no stronger than its reserves, that the Senators couldn't have hoped to win if they had suffered the physical mishaps that befell the Tigers and the Yankees.

The plight that the Senators would have been in if they had run into bad luck was almost shown fatally in the world's series when Roger Peckinpaugh had to get out of the game with a charley-horse and when Ralph Miller, a third baseman who wasn't good enough to hold a job with the feeble Philadelphia Phils, was found to be the only substitute serviceable on the bench. If that blow had been struck by fate in the last two weeks of the pennant race, the New York Yankees most likely would have been the American League entry in the series.

To attempt to take away any credit from the Senators for a most brilliant, a most deserving and a most popular victory is courting danger of physical retaliation from millions of fans and the risk is assumed only on the assumption that there might be some justice in referring to a few facts that are generally admitted as being true among baseball men.

Some National League partisans will not admit that the Senators were a better ball club than the Giants in the world's series. The argument may be countered with a question: "Why did the Senators win?" Giants fans will tell you that the Senators won on two crazy hops of a ball that would not hop that way again in twenty years in two critical places where a championship and a small fortune hung on each hop. That is true, of course, but it doesn't prove the inferiority of the American League champions.

The two teams in the series were shown from the first to the last pitch to be about the most evenly matched clubs that had ever furnished the entertainment in a world's series. When two clubs of even strength meet in a short series, the breaks always will decide the winner as they did this year.

CHAMPIONSHIPS HANG ON 3 GAMES

Sectional Superiority Will be Determined at Urbana, Syracuse and South Bend

GEORGE TECH COMES NORTH

Southern Team Will Invade Notre Dame—Illinois-Iowa Game Will Be Important

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 30—Sectional championships may hang on three big games featuring the football card offered for national amusement next Saturday.

Illinois and Iowa meet at Urbana in the most important game of the western conference since the Michigan-Illinois game two weeks ago. It will be a game of more sectional interest because the whole country will be watching to see if Iowa is able to stop that great star, "Red" Grange.

Iowa is coached by a former Illinois associate of Bob Zuppke who may know a lot of things about Illinois' game, but Zuppke hardly will depend upon old stuff. So far this year the Illinois team hasn't been forced to show a thing more than Grange and it is quite certain that it has more equipment than one running back, great as he is.

In the east, where championships cannot be decided as officially as west, two undefeated and untied teams meet at Philadelphia in the Lafayette-Pennsylvania game. Lafayette has been through a harder test this year and is the favorite.

Syracuse plays another important eastern game against Pittsburgh at Syracuse. Pittsburgh has been beaten but they are always dangerous.

The Pacific coast will be interested in both games as there is a fine chance to have an eastern championship team play against a representative California team in the annual post-season classic. Pennsylvania has a game scheduled with California and Syracuse is to play Southern California.

The coach championship may be cleared Saturday also as California and Southern California meet in the first of the "big three" games.

Two other games will add an interesting feature to Saturday's program.

The strong Army team plays Yale at New Haven and Notre Dame plays Georgia Tech at South Bend. The betting favors the Army and Notre Dame.

MAN, 95, IS DEAD

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 30—Charles Breckenridge, 95, Cass county's oldest citizen, died early today. His death was caused from infirmities due to advanced age.

Sees Death

Death is beautiful. Harry Wright of Chicago says so. He and death got acquainted the other day when Wright pitched from the fifth floor of a skyscraper. In a fall of 100 feet all he suffered was a bad case of fallen arches. "The fall was like going to a show," said Wright. "I saw my whole life from the time I was a kid."

All-America Possibilities

Coach Glenn Warner of Stanford says Ernie Nevers is one of the greatest football players he has ever seen. Coach credits team to J. A. S. American Union.

ALONG SIDELINES

Madison—Ed Williams, Badger backfield player whom Coach Ryan had planned to start at QB against Notre Dame, was barred today from further competition in the western conference through a ruling of the athletic conference. He was ruled out on grounds that he has already played three years of college football.

Chicago—Under personal supervision of Coach Stagg the Maroons trotted through a long signal drill and settled to stiff scrimmage.

Evanston—Homecoming plans of Northwestern include defeat for Indiana. Patrick who captained the Frost last year, is slated for regular berth in the line.

Ann Arbor—Fielding Yost took

his Wolverines to Minneapolis today at noon. From the squad he took, it was expected the lineup would be about the same that trounced Wisconsin last Saturday.

Iowa City—The frantic search for a guard to replace Freckenstein became Ingwersens' major problem today in rounding out his Hawkeyes for Illinois. Masintyre and Daniels are possibilities.

Urbana—Zuppke kept his Illinois gridders on their toes for the Iowa game by letting it be understood that no player has his position "cinched." Rivalry for line places added pep to the practice grind.

Columbus—Long worried over his offense, Coach Wilce sent his varsity against bulky scrubs and freshmen in a long scrimmage session. During the encounter he made notes of faults he expects to correct today.

DESPITE FINE FALL WEATHER FURS BEING WORN BY WOMEN

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
Women are all making a rush upon the fur shops these early Fall days. Furs are being worn despite the fine weather. Short jaquettes are appearing by the hundreds until it seems that every second woman must own one of these fur affairs. Besides these jaquettes, there are numerous neck pieces and fur-trimmed coats and suits and scarcely any garment appears which is unfur-trimmed.

One is astonished at the popularity of the short jaquette this year. It seemed as though we overplayed our hand on short jaquettes during the past two Spring seasons, but they have bobbed into style again and are being worn by both matron and Miss. The 1924 jaquettes have earmarks of their own, however. Firstly, the fur itself marks them as new models and then the length is new. The latest jaquettes come just a little below the hips and are made of natural goldenmuskkrat, leopard cat and brown dyed caracul or sheared lamb. Lengths of 32 and 34 inch are considered ultra smart these days.

Among the popular types of jaquettes one finds the natural weasel, which is a tawny and white-toned fur. Another popular jaquette is made of white ermine. This latter type is worn mostly by young girls. Summer ermine, collared in natural blue fox, is a lively combination which several well dressed women are choosing.

Brown, caracul is perhaps the most popular jaquette of the season, if one wishes to wear the most popular fur. Natural squirrel jaquettes are also coming into vogue again and these are popular with the young college Miss.

Raccoon coats of tomboy type are being sold in numbers to school girls. These sport coats are good looking, youthful, warm and particularly well suited to the flapper of today. They are quite inexpensive.

Another inexpensive coat which is new and very attractive is made of natural muskrat which is a golden brown fur. Long coats of this fur are trimmed with a longer and darker haired pelt and are most attractive. These will appeal to the woman of limited means who prefers a good-looking fur coat to a model.

Brown dyed caracul is replacing seal this season, according to the furriers. Women are tiring of seal and want novelty furs. Some of these caraculs are trimmed at border and on collar and cuffs with fox or skunk or other long-haired furs. Sheared lamb is used in the same manner and is prettiest when dyed a brownish shade.

White ermine evening wraps, will be as popular as they ever were. Furriers state that they can not make them up fast enough to supply the demand. This season's ermine is untrimmed by tails and depends upon the manipulation of the tiny skins for its chic. Wraps and capes are a bit smarter than coats for evening wear this year.

Every woman wears some sort of a neckpiece this Fall, if her garment itself is not fur-trimmed. There are several new ways of wearing the fur-piece which will give one a smart appearance. First, the one animal skin, such as the fox, is worn wrapped tight about the throat with the tail hanging down the back. Two-skinned neckpieces are worn, with one animal clasping tightly about the throat and the other animal hanging straight down the front. All fur-pieces are worn tight about the neck these days. Where a small animal is used, the furpiece clasps at the side with the tail extending down the back. The off-the-shoulder manner of wearing neckpieces is entirely out of style. Small animal pieces are much more in demand than larger ones this year. Fisher and fitch are furs which are seen repeatedly.

Summer ermine collared in badger is one of the new combinations. Huge Hudson stoles which extend to the hem of the garment may be bordered all around with a narrow band of fitch, where one wishes to make odd bits of old fur into a 1924 model.

Hudson seal jaquettes collared and cuffed in weasel is also attractive and new in appearance.

One can combine almost any furs these days. We see brown furs trimmed in tan or gray. White furs trimmed in leopard, seal, mink, etc., and other combinations which were formerly unheard of.

INSANITY PLEA WITHDRAWN

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 30—Fights for their lives along separate lines were planned today by attorneys for Lawrence M. Hight, poisoning pastor of Ina village, and his paramour, Elsie Sweetin, following Hight's plea of not guilty and his withdrawal of an insanity defense.

The next battle against the state's demand for the gallows for the confessed poisoners of the unfrocked Methodist minister's wife and the woman's husband will be held in circuit court Friday, when the woman's motion for a separate trial on the join first degree murder indictments will be argued.

State alienists after examining Hight were said to have been ready to testify that he was sane, it was said. Hight motions for a continuance and for a change of venue from Jefferson county both were over-ruled by Judge J. C. Kern in circuit court during the session yesterday.

In corroboration of the pastor's in corroboration of the, pastory's story of a love conspiracy to kill both spouses to make way for their own love was not in the crowded court room. Hight seemed downcast when his attorneys' moves for delays were beaten.

Clinton—James Spencer leaped into eight feet of water in a cistern and rescued Jennie, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aiken, here. Spence, who could not swim, had difficulty in keeping himself from drowning.

Washington—The call for an ambulance here was a false alarm.
Earl Simpson who was shocked at the Indiana Power Company, was revived before the ambulance arrived and went home unassisted.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29—The James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Hospital for children will be opened here sometime between November 5 and 10 for the admission of patients, Robert E. Neff, superintendent, predicted here today.

He also predicted that there probably will be more applications than could be taken care of. The hospital, two weeks ago, sent out approximat-ly 250 blanks and has already received 65 application blanks filled out in return.

The hospital has a capacity of 200 beds. Wards in it will accomodate from ten to twelve patients.
Any child under sixteen years of age with a disease or deformity that is presumably curable or improvable will be admitted when vacancies arise.

Requests have been made for additional application blanks. The blanks are sent out to the various counties over the state, the quotas being determined by the size of the population. From Marion county six applications have been returned.

About 150 nurses have been chosen for the staff. The staff of physicians has not been completed yet, and will not be for a few days, Neff said.

Plumbing and electrical work has not been completed on the building

HUSBAND SAID WHY NOT TRY IT

Wife Said She Would. Result, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

East Hardwick, Vt.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, side ache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said I would, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself? You look so well.' I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."

—Mrs. FRED. PRIMO, Route No. 2, East Hardwick, Vermont.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their household duties.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 85 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

A Warning That Went Unheeded

"School Bus Be Careful!" But someone evidently did not heed the instruction. And as a result, four children were killed and 19 injured, several seriously, when an interurban car ploughed into the machine near Sheffield Lake Village, O. Whether the driver or the motorman on the interurban was to blame probably never will be known.

CHILDREN MAY SOLVE TRAFFIC

American School Children to Write Essays on Vexing Question Now Before Country

$6,500 IN CASH PRIZES

May Have Beneficial Effect in Reducing Number of Accidents and Fatalities by Traffic

Washington, Oct. 30.—Can children solve the traffic problem?

In connection with the fourth national safety educational campaign announced today by the Highway Education Board, American school children are to be given an opportunity to answer the vexing question that now engages the attention of the best engineering minds of the country.

The announcement offers more than $6,500 in cash prizes and medals to elementary school pupils and elementary school teachers who submit the best essays and the best lessons in the 1924 national essay and national lesson contests. Officials of the Board are not optimistic enough to believe it is said, that any final solution will come from the essays by children, but it is believed that a nation-wide consideration of the traffic problem will have a beneficial effect in reducing the number of accidents and fatalities on streets and highways.

The basic principle of the contest is to train children in careful conduct on the streets and highways and to impress upon them a sense of personal responsibility. This contest is the fourth consecutive competition conducted under the auspices of the Board, approximately one million, two hundred thousand pupils, an average of at least 400,000 annually, having participated in the three preceding contests.

All pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible to compete, whether attending public private or parochial schools. Four hundred and eighty-eight checks and as many medals will be given for the best state essays, while three national prizes will be awarded for the three essays chosen as the best of all these to be written throughout the nation. The first national prize is a gold watch and a trip to Washington, with all third state prizes are gold watches of relative values.

All state and national prizes in the pupils contest are given by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which has incorporated in its safety program a plank calling for safety education in the schools. In addition to the prizes and medals for pupils, this organization offers to the teacher writing the best practical safety lesson a check for $500 and a trip to Washington. As second and third prizes checks for $300 and $200 will be given to the successful teachers.

Pupils are requested to write essays on the subject "My Conduct on Streets and Highways," while teachers are invited to prepare practical lessons for use in the classroom. Essays are not to exceed 500 words in length, while lessons by teachers may vary between 1,000 and 3,000 words, according to the inclination of the teacher.

Each state is entitled to one first prize, a gold medal and a check for fifteen dollars, and to one second prize, a silver medal and a check for ten dollars. The number of third prizes, bronze medals and checks for five dollars, varies in proportion to the elementary school enrollment.

The Board announces that the co-operation of educators, the women's clubs, chambers of commerce, civic organizations, automobile clubs and others, that has marked these contests in the past is pledged for this year. Many communities, it is reported add strictly local prizes to the state and national awards offered.

Posters and folders containing detailed information concerning the contests are being sent to all schools throughout the country, as well as to Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines and the Canal Zone. Individual requests will be promptly answered if addressed to the Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C.

New Type of Car Stirs Automobile World

It is an open car one moment and 30 seconds later same car is entirely enclosed. Studebaker Duplex ends need of hunting for side curtains in the dark and storm

A new type of car has stirred the automobile world as has nothing since the abandonment of the "buggy" style of body building.

It is the Studebaker Duplex, so called to indicate that it is an open car one moment, and 30 seconds later it is an enclosed car.

Like all great advances in the industrial arts, it is "so simple in operation, it is a wonder it wasn't thought of before" — — —

Particularly since its need has been growing, year by year, ever since automobiles were made.

Many people all of the time, and most people part of the time, want an open car—to bring to their riding the fresh crispness of the country air, and a free and untrammelled association with the great outdoors.

Yet for these same people, the snug comfort of the closed car, shutting out the storm and the wind and the cold, has been at times a necessity.

Two cars in one

The Studebaker Duplex is both cars in one. Just pull down the roller enclosures concealed in the roof of the car. In 30 seconds the open car has been made an enclosed car.

No hurried efforts to put up curtains; no hunting for the right one while the storm beats in; no mixing them up in the dark; no exposure through holes torn in them while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car — — —

Just pull down the roller enclosures giving instant enclosed car effect.

The body is built substantially—sides, corners and roof frame are of steel. The roof has curved steel sides and back; hardwood front. Steel, U-shaped cross beams, six of them, support the waterproofed, duplex fabric top and its linings. Here is permanent beauty, no sagging tops.

But Studebaker, on which the whole vehicle-using world has come to depend for reliability, would not rest on only one real contribution to the value given the public.

It must give all that engineering ability could devise.

Striking new features

So there are offered three distinct models of cars, to meet each of the three fields of demand—the Standard Six, with 113-inch wheelbase and 50 horsepower motor; the Special Six, with 120-inch wheelbase and 65 horsepower motor; the Big Six, most magnificent and luxurious of its products, with 127-inch wheelbase and 75 horsepower motor.

Duplex bodies are available on each line. In addition, closed models have workmanship and materials and beauty of line so far above the price class of the car, they must be seen to be appreciated.

Of scarcely less importance than the Duplex feature are other improvements such as, automatic ignition system, lighting control on the steering wheel, new location of emergency brake, improved one-piece windshield and many others.

The body lines, steering mechanism, and even the fenders of the new Studebaker were designed especially for genuine balloon tires. Thus the body lines harmonize with grace and beauty hitherto unattained, even by Studebaker.

Come in and see these new cars.

When Everything Seems Wrong

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 89
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

There are times when a victim of disease suffers in so many ways, and exhibits so many diverse symptoms that the practitioner whose method is to treat symptoms cannot classify the trouble and gravely terms it a complication of diseases.

Oftentimes it happens that the treatment intended to relieve one symptom aggravates another. It is such cases that the superiority of Chiropractic becomes manifest.

For Chiropractic deals not with symptoms or effects but gets back to the cause—pressure on nerves resulting in impaired communication between organ and brain. Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments remove such pressure and normal health follows.

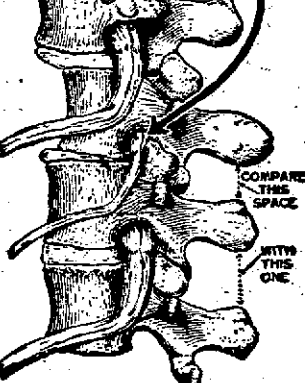

The Complication was Simple to Chiropractic

Having submitted to two operations for complication of diseases, and finding no relief, I became terribly discouraged until I was informed by several of my friends that Chiropractic adjustments would possibly be of great benefit to me. Two months ago I called on a Chiropractor. I can gratefully say that I received wonderful results in that time, and am very thankful to the chiropractor and to my friends who informed me of this very beneficial work.

WORLD WAR MEN WORK FOR PEACE

Inter-Aided World War Veteran's Association Intends to Push Ambitious Program

REPRESENTS 9 COUNTRIES

Fidac has been invited to be Contact Point Between League of Nations and Ex-Service Men

Washington, Oct. 30—Beat upon establishing lasting world peace and aiding the war disabled, the Fidac, an inter-allied world war veteran's association, intends to push an ambitious program during the coming year.

The Fidac represents ex-service men organized in the nine allied countries, totaling ten million members. Col. Thomas W. Miller, U. S. Alien Property Custodian, was recently elected president of the organization and will leave for Paris soon to direct activities.

At a meeting in Paris five years ago of ex-service men from all allied countries, the Fidac was organized. American was represented at that meeting by the National Commander of the American Legion, F. W. Galbraith. Headquarters of the organization are in Paris, and its recent president was Deputy Charles Bertrand, member of the French Chamber of Deputies and a distinguished veteran of the French army.

Col. Miller, a former war veteran, is prominent in American Legion circles. He was chairman of the resolutions committee at the San Francisco convention in 1923. He is a former Congressman from Delaware and a graduate of Yale University. Miller enlisted July, 1917, as a private in the army and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in September, 1919. He served eleven months in France and received a citation for gallantry in action. Miller also is a member of the American Battle Monuments Commission, appointed to select suitable sites on European battlefields where memorials in honor of American troops killed in the war may be erected.

American delegates to the Fidac are selected by the American Legion. At the annual congress in London a short time ago women's auxiliaries of the allied veteran's associations were taken into membership.

"A section of the League of Nations devoted to ex-service men and their problems," said Col. Miller, "has been suggested, and the Fidac has been invited to be the contact point between the League and the ex-service men. If this plan is carried out, we will have an 'unofficial observer' at Geneva. Plans are also being made to have representatives participate unofficially in the Arms Conference to be held in Europe next summer.

"While this is unofficial, it is an indication that the powers that be in the foreign countries realize that when they are making plans for a lasting peace they will receive the utmost of help from the men and women who suffered most directly from the privations of the recent war. Plans are also in force to work for the disabled men and women who served in the war and also to combat communists in Europe and in America."

200,000 PERSONS BOUGHT LICENSES

New Record Established for Greatest Number of Sales in Hunting and Fishing Licenses

INDIANA GOOD GAME STATE

13,826 Licenses Were Sold in 1924 to Non-Resident Fishermen and 267 to Hunters

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—Nearly 200,000 persons purchased hunting and fishing licenses in Indiana during the fiscal year which closed September 30, marking the greatest number of sales in the history of the state, according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation department.

Mannfeld is preparing his annual report for the commission and Director Richard Lieber of the state conservation department, and figures will show that Indiana in the last five years has leaped into great prominence as one of the best states in the Union for fishing and hunting small wild game.

The report will show that in fiscal 1924 this division sold 195,822 licenses. Of this number 13,826 went to non-resident fishermen, and 267 to non-resident hunters. This is a net gain of 19,052 licenses over 1923, and 103,156 more licenses than sold in 1918. It demonstrates, Mannfeld says, that the public is becoming educated to the need of helping to keep small wild game in the fields and woods and stock fish in public waters. Most of the money raised by this division is expended for propagating fish, and protecting fish and game through a warden service. A new hatchery was added this year at Avoca in Lawrence county. Total license sales in 1918 only numbered 92,666.

The division lists its total receipts at $190,976.71 for fiscal 1924, compared to $170,065.80 for the same period in 1923. This is a gain of $20,910.91. In 1918 prior to establishment of the conservation department and when the office operated independently, receipts amounted to only $89,149.96.

The report will set out that 2,290 persons were arrested for violating fish and game laws during 1924, and the division secured 2,127 convictions that cost violators $42,670.25 in fines and costs. The fines go to the public schools of our state. There were 517 more convictions in 1924 than in 1923. The report calls attention that in 1918 there were 347 persons convicted of law violations and that fines and costs amounted to $7,303. For six months in 1919, the first year the office operated under the department of conservation, 713 persons were convicted and paid fines and costs of $16,300.16. The record for 1924 shows an increase of 517 convictions and $10,740.14 increase in fines and costs over 1923, which is an increase of 1,780 convictions and $35,567.25 in fines and costs over 1918.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 30.—Within three months after the production at Indiana university of an instructional film on basketball coaching, four prints are required to meet the demand for the picture by Indiana high schools and six prints have been sold outright to universities and public school systems in other states.

The film has been purchased by the Chicago public school system, the Newark, N. J. public school system and the Universities of Kansas, Wisconsin, and Oklahoma. The film was produced by the Indiana university extension division in cooperation with the department of athletics. Members of Indiana's near championship varsity basketball team of last year provided the acting under the direction of Z. G. Cleveland, member of the national basketball rules committee and director of athletics at Indiana university, and Everett S. Dean, new head basketball coach this year at Indiana.

Mother of three children tells experience with "Mother's Friend."

"I USED 'Mother's Friend' before my last baby came," writes Mrs. McCormick, Liberty St., Pontiac, Mich., "and brought him with very little discomfort. I am the mother of three children but I never had such an easy time with the other two. I recommend 'Mother's Friend' to all expectant mothers."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. It relieves that tight feeling; permits easier natural adjustment of muscles and nerves during expectancy and at childbirth.

Hoosier State Automobile Association Sees Results in Conference Held Recently

GRADE CROSSING A TOPIC

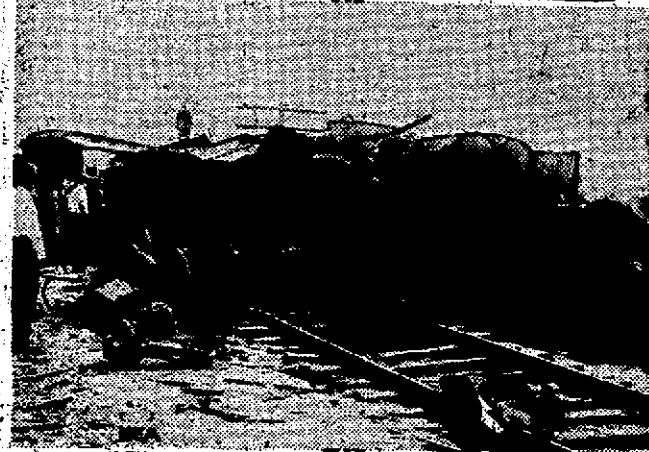

Proposal Endorsed to Make It Law For all Motorists to Stop Before Crossing a Track

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30—Every automobile owner in Indiana and every official interested in safety and traffic regulation may now feel that Indiana is well on the right path toward a sane solution of many problems involving the ownership and operation of motor vehicles on the highways of the state, as a result of the recent grade crossing safety conference held in the state house, according to the views held by the officers and directors of the Hoosier State Auto Association representing every part of Indiana.

"The fact that the conference distinctly did not go on record as favoring a driver's license law is significant," a bulletin of the association says. "The further fact that a proposal to require all vehicles to come to a full stop at every railroad and interurban crossing in the state was not adopted is also of significance," it was added. "The proposal was that stops be required under severe penalties at crossings that are known to be particularly dangerous, as a safe and sane suggestion that may well be made into law," the bulletin added.

It was pointed out that the conference was held to the lines of grade crossing safety matters but that the entire field of regulation was touched on in various addresses. In lieu of a driver's license law, it has been advocated by H. D. McClelland, manager of the auto license bureau of the secretary of state office, that provision be made for suspension of the car license for fixed periods in case of conviction of certain law violations. This, it was pointed out by the auto association officials, would achieve a similar end to that sought by a driver's license law without entailing any additional expense for administration.

This picture shows what happened near Sweetwater, Tex., when a horse meandered out on the tracks in front of the Sunshine Special, crack passenger train of the Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific lines. Engineers and fireman were killed. The train at the time was traveling at a high rate of speed, trying to make up lost time.

The state auto association also expresses itself as being highly pleased in the selection of Frank Singleton of Martinsville, a member of the public service commission, as safety commissioner. It is the understanding that an unofficial advisory committee representing various interests is to be selected to act with Commissioner Singleton, their time being donated as far as the state is concerned.

"There has been much rabid talk about imposing restrictions and penalties on the use of automobiles with the idea of amputating the infected toe by cutting off the entire leg," the association bulletin declared. "We fully believe that the good sense of the people of Indiana will be reflected by wise and sane needed legislation in the fighting for safety and protection for years and we pledge renewed efforts along all proper lines in the matter of shaping legislation looking to such desired objectives," the bulletin concludes.

Last Showing of "Sea Hawk"

"The Sea Hawk" which is the feature at the Princess Theatre will continue its showing until after today according to the announcement of the management today. Ever since its premier the Frank Lloyd-Frost National picture version of Sabatini's colorful story of sixteenth century piracy and romance has been greeted by enthusiastic capacity audiences, and it seems likely that before its showing is concluded "The Sea Hawk" will have established new motion picture history.

Milton Sills is seen as the principal male character of "The Sea Hawk" and in the large supporting cast are Enid Bennett, Marc MacDermott, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes, Frank Currier, Wallace MacDonald, William Collier, Jr., Mme. Medea Raddiana, Hector V. Sarno, Claire du Brey, Lionel Belmore, Albert Prisco, Fred de Silva, Bobbie Bolder, Kathleen Key and many others well known to followers of the cinema.

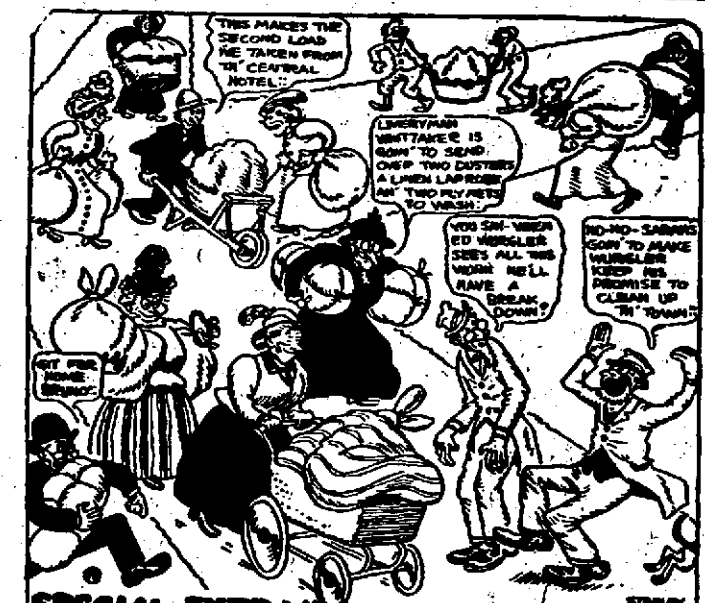

Several night battles between two large ancient ships and a number of daylight encounters between Spanish and Moorish buccaneering craft are among the big scenes of "The Sea Hawk". An entire Algerian village, with slave markets, four gigantic ships, two of them rowed by galley slaves at the oars, an English castle and numerous large interior settings have been necessary to give "The Sea Hawk" a proper background, yet all of the massive settings and gorgeous wardrobe are merely incidental to the real bigness of the production, its dramatic action, which critics report to be the most spirited and thrilling ever seen on the screen.

SMALL BOY BURNED

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 30—Rex Sausman, 4, was severely burned last night in a fire that burned a small shed at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sausman. The mother was burned in rescuing the boy.

Bourbon—Beri Dillingham reported someone had stolen his car. Authorities found that a farmer, living near here, had driven it home by mistake, thinking it was his own.

Clover Seed

Owing to the large stock of Imported Foreign Clover Seed

shipped into this country last winter and spring and on account of the publicity given this seed by our Government and many Agricultural Institutions as to it not standing the winter in this climate, a large amount of it was left on hand. This makes buying clover seed a great big risk this coming season, as many will attempt to mix this seed and sell to the farmer. The only way to protect yourself against this Foreign Seed is to either buy of your neighbor or buy
